DOWNPOUR CLOSES ALL L. A. SCHOOLS

DROUGHT OF 9 YEARS ENDED

Slides Triggered And Low Areas Are Inundated

Los Angeles (AP)—Southern California's heaviest rainstorm in 6 years drummed on intermittently Friday, flooding more homes and closing all city schools, but putting a welcome crimp into nearly 10 years of drought.

Forecasters said another inch of rain probably will fall in coastal areas. They first foresaw two to 4 inches, then said the storm would taper off to scattered showers Saturday and clearing weather Sunday.

The downpour has caused two deaths, brought evacuation of many homes, inundated low-lying areas, precipitated hillside earth slides and stalled hundreds of cars on flooded streets.

By Friday afternoon the 3-day storm total was 3.75 inches — more than the usual quota of 3.33 for all of February.

The season total since July 1 was 9.85 — more than double last year's 3.84 to date. Normal to date is 8.64.

Chances are Good

"Our chances of coming out with normal rainfall this year are better than they have been since 1957-58," said Max Bankert, in charge of the Weather Bureau's downtown office.

Except for the July 1, 1957-June 30, 1958, weather year, when 21.13 inches fell, Los Angeles has been averaging only about 10 inches annually since 1952. Normal is 14.68.

County Agricultural Commissioner Kenneth L. Wolff has called the current storm the best break for crops in 5 years.

The pounding, wind-whipped rain caused the closing Friday of all Los Angeles city and most Catholic schools. This gave youngsters a 4-day holiday, counting Lincoln's birthday Monday.

Dominguez channel, on Los Angeles' south side, overflowed, and water inundated nearby homes. Eighty persons were evacuated.

Bel-Air Suffers

In fashionable Bel-Air, where a multimillion-dollar fire ravaged hillsides of brush last November, Roscomare Road became a river of mud, rocks and water.

Rainfall figures ranged up to 8 inches in Topanga Canyon. A house there was evacuated when its rear porch gave way and slid downhill.

Most southern California rainstorms approach from the north. But a forecaster said this one came, in waves, from a low-pressure trough extending southwestward from the San Francisco area to about halfway to Hawaii.

Two Lose Lives

Killed were Charles Edward Hibbs, 7, of suburban Canoga Park, and Mrs. Natalie Sobol Spritzler, 41, Brentwood.

The boy was drowned in the rain-swollen Los Angeles River flood control channel.

Mrs. Spritzler, wife of a physician and daughter of New York newspaper columnist Louis Sobol, was crushed to death by a tree that fell across her car.

A deluge of snow descended upon mountains in northern California. Mt. Shasta in the Siskiyou range reported 4 feet of snow piled up Thursday and Friday.

Rain spread from the Pacific coast area into Nevada, Utah and western Colorado.

Cities Fail To Agree

...Air Service Case

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska cities failed to come up with any unified proposal in the impending Columbus air service case, but their positions in the controversy were somewhat clarified Friday.

State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt unsuccessfully asked the cities to iron out their difference ahead of the Civil Aeronautics Board hearing Tuesday in Washington.

Sandstedt and Rush Clarke, special assistant attorney general, also attempted to clarify the state's position on two alternative proposals.

Clarke said that state would push for DC-3 service to Columbus on a route from Omaha connecting with Hastings, Kearney, North Platte and maybe Scottsbluff, before terminating in Denver, Colo.

Lincoln May Oppose

Lincoln is opposed to this proposal if the Frontier Airlines flights 52 and 53 are to be diverted from the southern route to this new route segment.

Henry Holst, deputy city attorney for Lincoln, said the city would not oppose the new route if it becomes clear that all Frontier flights on the southern route are going to be dropped.

Both Lincoln and Scottsbluff strongly objected to the alternative state proposal to divert one Convair round-trip on the central Nebraska route to serve Columbus.

Clarke said this alternative proposal was a "last-ditch one" and wouldn't be pushed at the CAB hearing.

He said Convair service to Columbus "is not feasible," but contended the state "can't withdraw the proposal (Exhibit 105)."

"If the proposed DC-3 route goes down the drain," he said, "the state has no case left to argue."

Said 'Premature'

A Lincoln spokesman suggested that the Columbus air case was "premature" until the Frontier southern route case with DC-3 service to Lincoln is decided.

Columbus has no air service now. Frontier was supposed to have served the city on its northern route — since discontinued — but never did. The CAB has said Columbus is entitled to some facilities.

Atty. Dick Hunter said Hastings is sympathetic with any town threatened with loss of air service.

"Lincoln is in real danger of losing four flights," he said. "But if the southern segment does go down the drain we will lose all our service."

'Legitimate Case'

He said Columbus has a legitimate case and the aeronautics department has come up with the only proposal that "makes any sense."

Hastings would be included on the new DC-3 route proposed to serve Columbus.

It was suggested that Columbus could be put on North Central Airlines' north-south route proposed for extension from Norfolk to Lincoln and Omaha and Hastings.

This drew objections from Ed Krueger, Norfolk Chamber of Commerce manager, who said Columbus should have air service, but placement of the city on the route would jeopardize Norfolk's air service.

F. O. Gottschalk, chairman of the Columbus Airport Authority, said the city has been fighting for 3 years to get air service.

He charged that Lincoln and other cities were "selfish and greedy" in opposing the plan that would give Columbus some DC-3 service.

Packing Plant Hands Reach 'Agreement'

Meat cutters and butcher workmen reached a "tentative" contractural agreement Friday with the American Stores meat packing plant.

The settlement will apparently avert any possible walkout at the big packing facility.

Announcement of the agreement came in a joint statement Friday night from plant manager George David and Al Bauer, president of amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's Local 106.

Ratification

The 3-year agreement goes before union membership for ratification Saturday, Bauer said.

Some 450 employes are affected, he said.

Wages were not a source of dispute in the 5-week negotiating process.

The joint statement said the tentative agreement "has been reached in contract negotiations on fringe benefits and working conditions."

The agreement is "satisfactory to both union and company," the statement pointed out.

U.S. Hit By Rioters In Argentina

Buenos Aires (UPI)—Castroite and Communist demonstrators, protesting Argentina's diplomatic break with Cuba, attacked two American business firms and the U.S. Embassy building here Friday night with fire and tar bombs.

Nine demonstrators—7 men and two women—were arrested and one policeman was injured before the disorders were quelled after more than an hour of fighting.

Police used tear gas and smashed into the mobs with clubs before the demonstrators, determined to continue the fighting, were permanently dispersed. Shouts of "Out with the Yankees" and "Long live Castro!" were repeatedly voiced.

Building Guarded

Despite the fact it was heavily guarded by police, the First Bank of Boston building, whose upper floor is occupied by the U.S. Embassy, was tar-bombed.

The International Business Machines Corporation office was also attacked. A Molotov cocktail fire bomb was hurled through the company's plate glass window but it failed to explode.

Simultaneous attacks at 7 different other points were carried out by other Castro supporters. Among other buildings hit was that of the Colombian Embassy which was tar-bombed by demonstrators screaming "Death to Colombia!" and "Long live Castro!"

N-Tests In Air Likely In Nevada

By STEWART HENSLEY

Washington (UPI) — The first U.S. nuclear tests in the atmosphere in more than 3 years probably will take place over Nevada early next month if President Kennedy decides to resume such experiments, officials said Friday.

They would be small, low yield shots to be followed in a month or 6 weeks by a series of large tests from Christmas Island in the mid Pacific, the officials said. Britain has made Christmas Island, 1,500 miles south of Honolulu, available to the United States for this purpose.

U.S.-owned Johnston Island, 1,000 miles southwest of Honolulu, also figures in preparations for resumption of atmospheric tests. The United States is expected to test an anti-missile nuclear warhead on a vehicle launched from Johnston.

Most officials closely connected with the matter are convinced the President will announce about March 1 his reluctant decision to resume atmospheric testing. They expect him to follow this up at once with disclosure that the first low yield test will be held on American soil.

Can Be Small

Atmospheric tests can be of exceptionally small yields. For example, the last U.S. atmospheric explosion was detonated on a tower in Nevada in October, 1958. Its explosive force was equal to only .15 of a tone of TNT.

Director William C. Foster of the U.S. Arms control and Disarmament Agency said Friday that if Russia gains superiority in nuclear weapons her military leaders may not be able to resist the temptation to start a nuclear war.

In a letter to the Washington Post, Foster advanced this as the principal reason why the President might have to resume atmospheric tests in the absence of any safeguards against Secret Soviet preparations for another series of tests.

The United States now is conducting low yield underground tests at its Nevada site, setting off the 13th announced explosion Friday.

The President has said publicly that he is being impelled toward resumption of atmospheric tests by the fear that Russia may be preparing secretly for another series such as those with which she shattered the 3-year moratorium last September.

Officials said preparations have been virtually completed in Nevada for small atmospheric tests and experiments could start there as soon as the President announced his decision to resume testing.

Violence Stops But Strike Stalls Paris

By RODNEY ANGOVE

Paris (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's government, caught between terror bombs of the right-wing Secret Army and Communist-led rioters, contended Friday with a strike that stalled much of Paris for an hour.

The strike was the result of a chain of violence that led from the government's efforts to make peace in Algeria.

The European Secret Army is attempting to defeat Algerian independence by terrorizing independence backers. A Communist-led demonstration protesting government failure to suppress the Secret Army erupted into a bloody 3-hour battle Thursday night between Paris riot police and thousands of demonstrators, in which 8 persons were killed and hundreds injured.

The walkout Friday was in protest against alleged police savagery in controlling the riot.

The strike call drew wide support not only from Communists, but also Socialist and Christian (Roman Catholic) labor unions and from students, and was only the first of other strikes and demonstrations expected to follow the riot.

Another strike was called for Monday, when the riot victims are to be buried.

Among those joining the one-hour work stoppage were movie actress Brigitte Bardot, who recently spurned a Secrety Army demand for funds, and her first husband, movie director Roger Vadim.

There were hints that the Communists, who long have sought to form a popular front with other parties to gain power, see in the Secret Army terrorism and the Algerian situation, an opportunity to overthrow de Gaulle.

On the other hand, the Paris newspapers Figaro and Le Monde said the leftist demonstrators Thursday night fell into a trap set by the Secret Army which would like to overthrow de Gaulle to keep Algeria French.

Europeans in Algeria who oppose independence took grim satisfaction in the riots in Paris and in the explosion of a dozen plastic bombs while the rioting was going on.

"Now the people in France will realize that the real enemy is communism," commented one European in Algiers.

"Now the people in metropolitan France will see that the Secret Army is spreading," said another.

Eclectic Mayor Solves All Of City's Financial Problems

Eclectic, Ala. (AP) — Most mayors struggle with the financial problems of their cities.

But not the mayor of this tiny town in east Alabama.

He solves the problems personally — with gifts of money.

On top of that, he won't take any pay for serving as mayor.

Mayor John W. Castleberry's latest gift to his town is $100,000 — no strings attached — which is quite a chunk of money, expecially for a farming community of only about 1,000 population.

The town officials, who usually expect to collect about $40,000 a year in taxes, figure the gift will pay off Eclectic's debts — and then some.

Lot of Uses

Specifically, they plan to use the gift to pay off the bonded indebtedness of the water works system, to help pay for a new city hall, to install another city well, and perhaps buy a new fire truck.

This isn't the first time the mayor has reached into his own pocketbook for the town. He gave another $100,000 shortly after he was elected 5 years ago, and he has come up with lesser gifts through the years to pay for civic projects the taxpayers couldn't afford.

A successful lumberman until he went into semi-retirement several years ago, the 68-year-old Castleberry doesn't like to talk about the gifts.

To a questioning newsman, he confirmed the report of the latest gift, but that was all. "I'd rather this wasn't publicized," he said.

But the other folks in Eclectic don't feel that way. Plans for a Mayor Castleberry day are in the works for July 15. Carl R. Barker, who is acting mayor when Castleberry is absent, explains it this way:

"It's the very least the city can do to repay its mayor."

And another resident of Eclectic summed it up

"He's one in a million."

Court Bars Liquor Price Control Rule

By GERRY WRIGHT
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster District Judge Herbert A. Ronin has ruled the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission's regulation on prices of liquor unconstitutional and enjoined the commission from enforcing it.

In ruling on the suit brought against the Commission by Terry Carpenter Inc., Judge Ronin stated that the State Legislature has never granted the liquor control group the power to set prices as set forth in its so-called "Rule 46".

The rule specifically states that "manufacturers, distributors and wholesalers of liquor or beer must file with the commission a schedule of prices to be charged for each brand of liquor or beer . . . "

Discounts

It also states that discounts cannot exceed 25c per case in purchases of 10 or more cases and to amend the schedule reasons for such change must be filed and the change may not become effective until 30 days after approval.

"Rule 46" further prohibits manufacturers, distributors or wholesalers from paying the freight charges on beer and liquor sent to dealers.

Carpenter, who operates a liquor store near Scottsbluff, alleged that the discount limitation imposed upon wholesalers by the rule, arbitrarily sets up a rigid price structure in complete disregard of differing competitive situations.

Works Hardship

He alleged the prohibition against allowing wholesalers to pay freight charges works a hardship on western Nebraska retailers who must compete with dealers in nearby states who receive their stock from Denver and other points close by and thus have lower freight expenses than Nebraska dealers receiving their stock from Omaha.

Attorney General Clarence Meyer said the question of whether the District Court decision would be appealed to the State Supreme Court would be discussed jointly with the Liquor Commission because the matter involved is "partly a legal question and partly a question of policy."

Court Ruling May Open Way For Stiff Liquor Price Battle

Omaha and Lincoln beer and liquor wholesalers heralded Lancaster District Court Judge Herbert Ronin's ruling on the unconstitutionality of the state Liquor Control Commission's rule against price-cutting as the signal for a "red-hot" alcoholic price war in the state.

The Commission ruling restricted all but minor discounting on liquor and beer prices to retailers.

Judge Ronin's injunction against enforcement of the rule, according to the district manager of one major beer distributor, means "we will no doubt have a wide-open price war going soon . . . unless the ruling is appealed at once."

Although no liquor wholesaler contacted would admit that his firm would initiate the price-cutting, all agreed that a price war was "probable" or "likely" and one Omaha spokesman noted that "our firm will meet the price, no matter how low it goes."

Retailers of liquor and beer declined comment or expressed no opinion on the likelihood of a price-cutting move by wholesalers, although one dealer remarked morosely, "If it comes, us little guys are the one who will get burned."

$450 Million Asked For Public Shelters

Space Would Be Shared By 20 Million

Washington (AP)— The administration asked Congress Friday for $450 million to meet 60% of the cost of building public fallout shelters for 20 million persons by mid-1963.

The request was made by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in identical letters to the speaker of the House and president of the Senate. He called the program "one of the essential tools we are forging to meet the needs of our times."

In addition to the 20 million shelter spaces hoped for under this plan, a current program of marking suitable shelter areas in existing buildings is expected to show an additional 50 million spaces.

Thus the potential goal of public shelter spaces for mid-1963 would be 70 million for a national population of about 185 million.

McNamara noted that the effectiveness of the public shelters would be lessened by the fact that many will be in buildings used only in the daytime so private shelters for homes, offices and factories will have to help make up the deficit.

No federal financing is proposed for private shelters although the government is prepared to encourage such construction by giving advice.

Under McNamara's new program, shelter construction subsidies of up to $25 a person would be granted to "schools, colleges, hospitals, clinics and welfare institutions" operated by government units or by organizations recognized as non-profit under the current internal Revenue Act.

The government estimates the cost-per-person of effective shelter construction at about $40 so the $25 would represent 60% of the financing with the remainder to be provided by the applicant.

To claim the subsidy, each shelter would have to have room for at least 50 persons and would have to be available for public use.

The shelters built under the new program would have a minimum of 10 square feet per person. They would be expected to give full protection only from radioactive fallout after a nuclear attack. They would not be effective against direct blast or firestorm effects in the immediate impact area.

Gorin Shows Many Talents In Recital At Auditorium

By RUTH ARDIS

Igor Gorin is a man of many talents, and he showed a goodly portion of them at Pershing Auditorium Friday night.

Members of the Lincoln Community Concert Association who had the privilege of hearing this fine baritone 4 years ago in the NBC opera presentation of "La Traviata" were impressed once more by the perfectly controlled tones and the authoritative style of Mr. Gorin. The wide variety of music offered showed him as a fine song stylist from the classics of Monteverdi and Handel, to the musical nonsense of Malotte's setting of "Sing a Song of Sixpence."

His greatest triumph of the evening was the encore "Figaro" from the "Barber of Seville." He has acquired the art of concert projection that makes it possible to create something of the excitement and dramatic illusion of the opera house on the concert platform.

"The Jolly Shepherd" and the impassioned "Prayer for Peace" — both written by Mr. Gorin while on a recent concert tour of Australia — were well received by the large audience.

Recalls Past

Reminiscing about his first concert given here in a church many years ago, Mr. Gorin was lavish in his praise of the present facilities for musical activities in the city of Lincoln. Indeed, the resonant tone quality of the soloist and the sparkling accompaniments of Mr. Samuel Sanders seemed to fare better in the vastness of the auditorium than many a larger group has done in the past.

Mr. Sanders, a young professor at Hunter College in New York, was an outstanding accompaniest and also played a fine group of solos.

The announcement of the 1962-63 Lincoln Community Concert Association Series brought an enthusiastic response from those in attendance. Next season, members will have the privilege of hearing five concerts — The Rapsodie Romania, Eileen Farrell, The Jose Greco Spanish Dance company, Belafonte Folk Singers, and the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

The local series has grown in size and interest since its beginnings here 5 years ago. It is now recognized as one of the finest series in the country, well supported by membership, and certainly well attended.

Governor's Unit Rips Into Orthopedic Issues

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

The newly-activated Governor's Crippled Children's Committee wasted little time at its initial meeting Friday before launching into the touchy issue of the future of children's orthopedic services and the Lincoln Orthopedic Hospital.

Three resolutions of the group were:

—That the Nebraska Crippled Children's Services should be maintained and eventually expanded to serve handicapped children not now included under the authorized services.

—That a study be made of the State Orthopedic Hospital (Lincoln) in order that plans may be proposed for the perfection and modernization of essential facilities, not including expansion of patient capacity.

Make Study

—That a study be made of a plan for partial decentralization of Crippled Children's Services by which medical and hospital facilities available in other cities of the state may be used by Nebraska Crippled Children's Services and that the administrative and budgetary problems of such a plan be analyzed.

The group elected Mrs. John S. Anderson, Grand Island, president, Lucile Cypreansen of Lincoln, vice president, and Mrs. L. A. Enersen, also of Lincoln, as secretary.

Gov. Frank Morrison, who reactivated the committee created by legislative act in 1937 and first appointed by the late Gov. Ralph Brooks in 1960, gave the committee his views on state orthopedic services at their initial meeting.

Favors Lincoln

Morrison said he favors a program under which long-term therapy would be carried out at the Lincoln Orthopedic Hospital with emergency surgical care provided at outstate sites where possible.

The governor's comment followed on the heels of a recommendation by the State Hospital Advisory Board for a decentralization program for all orthopedic care.

Other recent suggestions have included the expenditure of from $500,000 to $1.5 million to modernize the Lincoln hospital, abolishment of the Lincoln facility and perhaps the entire state orthopedic care program, or transfer of the orthopedic services to Children's Hospital in Omaha.

Any change in the present status of the Lincoln Orthopedic Hospital would require action by the State Legislature.

Committee members present at the organizational meeting, in addition to the officers, were V. R. Blackledge of Scottsbluff and Dr. Frank Stewart of Lincoln.

Others of the 9-member committee are Dr. Harold Neu and Mrs. Ben Cowdery, both of Omaha, George Risk of Columbus and Dr. Faye Smith of Imperial.

Masked Man Robs Kimball Liquor Store

Kimball (AP)—Authorities were looking for an armed bandit who got away with about $1,300 from Jack's Liquor Store in Kimball Friday night.

At first it was believed the loot totaled some $2,000, but the sheriff's office later scaled down the estimate.

A woman's stocking and khaki cap believed worn by the bandit was found in an alley near the store.

The bandit entered the store when owner Jack Titsworth was alone and ordered him to lie on the floor. Then the gunman, who appeared to know his way around the store, took the money from a safe and a cash register.

The bandit ignored silver, taking only currency.

The sheriff's office said Titsworth described the gunman as about 5 feet 7 inches tall and well-built. He had blonde hair and wore a black mask.

Titsworth was ordered to remain on the floor for 5 minutes while the bandit fled. He was believed to have escaped by automobile.

The sheriff's office said a passerby reported he had seen an auto parked in a nearby alley at about the time of the robbery. The car carried South Dakota license plates and "a couple of men" were inside.

'Fussy' Robbers Handcuff 4; Steal $50,000 Jewelry

Chicago (UPI) — Three "fussy" gunmen handcuffed and taped a suburban mother, her son and two maids Friday and looted their home of an estimated $50,000 worth of furs and jewelry.

Mrs. Patrick H. Hoy told police two of the gunmen came to the Hoy home near Half Day northwest of here and inquired about selling cement to her husband.

She said they barged into the living room, pulled guns and bound her, her son, Peter, 11, and two maids, Peggy Walsh, 39, and Mrs. Arabella Zieman, about 55. A third man stayed in the car.

"They seemed to know exactly what they wanted," Mrs. Hoy said. "They were very fussy about the jewelry —they took only diamonds and pearls."

Mrs. Hoy said she managed to slip off one of the handcuffs and called police. Her husband, head of Material Services Division of General Dynamics Corp., was at work.

Capacity Crowd Likes 'Mister Roberts' Opener

By WOODY HOWE
Star Staff Writer

Once again, as they seem destined to do forever, those scurviest deckhands ever to put on bellbottomed trousers —Mannion, Insignia, Stefanowski and the rest — stole the hearts of the capacity Community Playhouse crowd that watched "Mister Roberts" Friday night.

Spending the last days of the war in the back areas of the Pacific, sailing from "Tedium" to "Apathy," their ship's holds carrying nothing more important than toilet paper, badgered by a neurotic skipper, these hardy swabbies have been delighting theater audiences more than a decade.

Friday night they outdid themselves. Played with gusto by Gilbert Salinas, Kenneth Fouts, Donald Miller, Charles Rickel, James Olson, Harold Howard and Charles Armstrong, these characters became the most athletic, blue-est talking, most authentic-looking supporting cast seen in the Playhouse in some time.

'Excellent Job'

Not that the principals should be overlooked. Though Lt. (j.g.) Doug Roberts' obsession with a combat assignment has begun to wear a little thin with the passage of years, Marv Stromer, as Roberts, does an excellent job making you believe in him.

Ron Hull, as Ens. Pulver, the laundry and morale officer, is perhaps the most polished performer in the large cast and handles the role with ease.

Sam Davidson is an effectively compassionate "Doc," and John Churchill, in his Lincoln theater debut, gives a capable interpretation of the Captain of AK-601.

Opening night seemed especially salty with the presence of 7 uniformed U.S. Navy and Marine Corps officers from the University of Nebraska Department of Naval Science, and Richard Rodgers' "Victory at Sea" music wafting, like spray, through the audience.

Though a perennial favorite, this play presents not insignificant staging obstacles that might well have scuttled less capable directors than Bonna Tebo Hays.

She has blended the frank talk, the drunken sailors back from liberty, the naivete of Roberts' militarism, live goats, soapsuds, and the rough-house antics that threaten sometimes to collapse the entire set, with considerable delicacy.

"Mister Roberts" will be performed Saturday and next Tuesday through Sunday.

Fremont Man Believed Lost

Hamilton, Bermuda (AP) — A/3c Ralph E. Reutzel, 19, of Fremont, Neb., was one of 7 crew members believed killed Friday when their U.S. tanker plane exploded in the air like a yellow ball of fire and crashed into the Atlantic near Berumda.

An Air Force spokesman said the KB50 plane was returning to Kindley Air Force Base from a refueling mission when it exploded.

The spokesman said no parachutes were seen after the explosion and it was assumed none of the crew bailed out.

The plane was based at England Air Force Base in Louisiana. It was a unit of the 622nd Refueling Squadron.

Air Force officials listed other crew members as Capt. Rowan J. Pallow, 38, St. Cloud, Minn.; Capt. John B. Tracy, Jr., 25, Syracuse, N.Y.; Capt. Gaines G. Wilbanks, 30, Decatur, Ga.; T.Sgt. E. P. Horton, 36, Memphis, Tenn.; A.1c Guy L. Powell, 26, Puyallup, Wash., and Lt. Johnny G. Pitts, 25, Panama City, Fla.

State's Economic Growth Behind Population Increase

. . . NU Extensionist Phil Sutton Reports

Denver, Colo. (UPI)—Nebraska's economic growth has not kept up with population growth during the past 10 years, despite the state's very modest population gain during that period.

Sutton

This statement was made Friday by Phillip S. Sutton, associate state leader of programs and reports for the University of Nebraska agriculture Extension service. He spoke at a regional workshop on rural areas development.

Thirty-five representatives of 8 states are attending the workshop, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture federal Extension service and the Colorado Extension service. The workshop is one of a series of 6 being held around the country to define the role of the extension service in the rural areas development program.

Sutton, executive secretary of the Nebraska RAD committee, said that 121,000 persons were lost by Nebraska by out-migration to other states during the past 10 years. This points up, he said, one of the major problems of over-all economic and social development in the state.

Seventy per cent of those leaving the state were in the younger age brackets, according to census figures.

Nebraska is one of 42 states which have organized RAD state committees, according to E. C. Weitzell, RAD program leader for the federal extension service. Some 900 counties around the country have organized RAD committees, as well as about 50 areas which include all or parts of several counties in a single economic development unit.

Three areas in Nebraska, centering around Ord-Loup City, O'Neill, Atkinson and Lodgepole, have organized citizens committees, as have most of the counties included in the respective areas.

Northeast Editors Will Hold Winter Meet At Norfolk

Norfolk (AP) —Northeast Nebraska editors and their wives will meet next Saturday, Feb. 17, in their annual winter gathering at the Madison Hotel in Norfolk. District President Loren Fry of the Neligh News expects attendance to be close to 140.

At the afternoon business session, Bob Morris, Wymore editor, will tell about his decision to change his plant from letterpress method of printing to offset. Jon R. Cooper, vice-president of the A. O. Cooper Co. of Humboldt, will talk on co-operative advertising. E. A. Jaksha of the Fremont office of Northwestern Bell, will talk on satellite communications. There will also be a round table discussion in the afternoon including a presentation by Albion Editor Jack Lough.

Krueger Resigns Chamber Position

Norfolk (AP) — Edward Krueger, Norfolk Chamber of Commerce general manager since October, 1957, handed his resignation to the board of directors.

He said he felt he could not justify devoting part of his time to his new business and continue to do chamber work. He recently joined George Sierk as co-owner of the Elkhorn Valley Seed and Supply Company, a new business at Norfolk.

Krueger's resignation will become effective when a new manager arrives.

Chamber President Phleet Hash will appoint a committee to select the new manager.

Count Of Mail Votes Reveals Issue Okayed

. . . At Blue Hill

Blue Hill (AP) — In the 5th special election held on the proposal Blue Hill school district residents approved by a vote of 478 to 375 a $395,000 bond issue for construction of a new junior-senior high school building.

Tally of absentee and disabled voter ballots at the Webster County Courthouse in Red Cloud Friday pushed the "yes" votes over the necessary 55% level by 8 votes.

Of the 43 ballots mailed in 21 favored the proposal, 6 opposed it and 16 ballots were disqualified for technical reasons.

The total vote showed that more than 90% of the eligible voters in the district went to the polls in the election Tuesday.

Stubble Mulch System 'Depends On Co-Operation'

The future of stubble mulch farming in the Great Plains will depend upon co-operation by farmers, scientists and commercial companies in the development of needed equipment and chemicals, Charles Fenster said.

Fenster, a University of Nebraska Extension agronomist stationed at the Box Butte Experiment Station at Alliance, made the statement at the Great Plains Agricultural Council workshop on stubble mulch farming.

Stubble mulch farming is a year-around system of managing plant residues so that the soil surface is protected from erosion hazards.

"Due to problems of controlling weeds and limited amounts of crop residues, chemicals may become very important to the stubble mulch program," Fenster said. "Chemicals will not replace tillage, but they will be used to supplement or replace some of the tillage operations.

Economic Situation Blamed For Penney's Store Closing

By GENE BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

David City — J. V. Nicodemus, manager of the local J. C. Penney store for 22 years, has sold his last pair of shoes.

His store is closed.

"The economics of the situation simply would not permit us to continue," he explained, adding the company leaves with regret.

Nicodemus said the immediate area has been kind to his company for 45 years.

Despite the move, the store manager plans to stay on.

"This is home. We've raised two children here. Yes, this is home," he added.

High Federal Taxes

Nicodemus, a J.C. Penney employee for 39 years, attributed the shut-down to:

—the steady exodus to the city for goods.

—the federal tax situation.

About the latter, he declared that "the federal government takes 52 cents out of every dollar through corporation taxes. This is killing."

But Nicodemus did say that the volume of business done by the store has dwindled in the past 5 years.

"It's too easy to hop in the car nowadays and head for the bigger trading areas," he noted.

The 7 persons left unemployed have been offered similar jobs with the organization.

Trucker Held In Mahoney's Death May Get 10 Years

Madrid, Spain (AP) — Gregorio Buendia Aguirre, driver of a truck held in connection with the hit and run death of an American Air Force sergeant, may be sentenced to 10 years imprisonment, according to private legal sources Friday.

Spanish authorities say Buendia Aguirre's truck hit Sgt. Eugene A. Mahoney of St. Edward, Neb., last Saturday morning when he stepped out of his car on the Burgos Highway, 50 miles north of Madrid, then fled.

According to Spanish law in these cases, the driver may be condemned to 5 years in prison for carelessness and 5 more for failing to aid the victim, legal sources said.

Spanish authorities announced they were holding a man in the incident, but that the exact charges had not been determined.

Missile Teams Complete Nike Firing Tests

Omaha (AP) — Two teams of missilemen from the Omaha area have successfully completed their test firing of Nike missiles, the Sixth Missile Battalion reported Friday.

The test firing was the first Short Notice Annual Practice (SNAP).

Omaha Marine Commands Astronauts Helicopter Group

Omaha (AP) — A Creighton University graduate who was reported as Omaha's first casualty of World War II is commander of the helicopter group assigned to the nation's astronauts.

He is Col. Paul Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew T. Johnston, Omaha. He is a Marine helicopter pilot. It was his group which pulled Astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom out of the water after their space flights. They'll be on hand when Col. John Glenn makes his orbital flight attempt.

Johnston, a 1940 Creighton graduate, was at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck Dec. 7, 1941. His ship was sunk, but he was rescued by another ship which immediately put to sea. The Navy Department did not learn of his rescue for several days. In the meantime his parents had been notified that he was killed in action.

Tidal Wave Of Power

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Like some terrible cancer, the public power situation in Nebraska continues to eat away at itself. If the public is a little confused over the multiplicity of agencies involved in the distribution of electricity at one level or another, it should be equally at sea in regard to the efforts toward simplification of the many problems involved. There are about as many people with a finger in the solution as there are in the problem.

The situation, however, has still not jelled to the point where this can be said to be good or bad. There are some things on the scene at the moment that are encouraging and some that are of a different nature. Our natural inclination is to be pessimistic but hope must still be preserved. There is hope, for instance, that the resolution of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association calling for a single wholesale power agency in Nebraska will be taken up and approved by others, such as the Legislative Council Power Study Committee headed by Sen. Don Thompson of McCook.

Hanging On To Hope

Thompson's committee has done nothing since the adjournment of its parent body last summer but there is a reason for this. The reason is that the Legislature also created another group to study the public power situation in the state. This group is called the Nebraska Public Power Committee. The operating and study groups are so numerous any more that it is becoming difficult to find names for the new ones that will distinguish them from those already in existence.

The Legislative Council committee has been holding itself in reserve pending action by the NPPC. This latter group has not found any permanent solution to things and perhaps it could do a better job than it is doing but it has been making an effort. Again, the promise it shows is rather small but it is an evolution we want, not a revolution.

The NPPC has not been working much in the area of wholesale matters. It has been devoting its time to a solution of the rate and service area problems that afflict many of the retail agencies and have them in court at the present time. In matters of rates, it has been hamstrung somewhat by the insistence of the Loup River Public Power District, a partner in the Nebraska Public Power System, upon the payment of 1959 rates by rurals and Consumers Public Power District. Loup wants the 1959 rates paid in full and then will talk about the future. The negotiating committee in this area wants a lower rate paid and then the final rate negotiated.

The committee has fallen down, however, in working toward any permanent solution in the matter. Another subcommittee, headed by Ralph Foreman of Columbus, manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Co-operative, Inc., is working primarily in the area of service coverage. Foreman's group has held four meetings to date with agencies throughout the state in an effort to seek voluntary arrangements on customer service as between power agencies whose areas of operation overlap one another. He has reported excellent results in these four meetings but he has still sampled but a very small part of the total problem involved. It is almost too much to believe that this question can be settled on a voluntary basis but perhaps stranger things than this have happened.

The service matter is further complicated by a District Court ruling between Fremont area customers and the Omaha Public Power District. The court ruled that the customer, not the serving agency, has the right of deciding who provides electric power. This, of course, would mean complete anarchy, senseless competition and endless waste.

The decision is being appealed by OPPD to the Supreme Court but both committees created by the last session of the Legislature are put to a disadvantage until this litigation is settled. An NPPC subcommittee is considering the establishment of two wholesale agencies in the state.

This is not in harmony with the single wholesale setup recommended by the NREA and probably would not do the job. If the three-headed wholesale setup we now have cannot work, it would be little better with a two-headed structure. The entire situation boils down to one of somewhat remote possibilities, a limited show of good intentions and still a rather large amount of confusion. The Legislative Council Study committee has properly waited for an appropriate time to act but this time is drawing nearer every day.

Two Heads No Better

Not all remedies have been exhausted but the roads now being traveled do not appear to offer enough hope for the future. Action now being taken within the various power agencies themselves is neither broad nor strong enough to get the job done. We are very close to the point where Thompson's committee should be called upon to take the situation in hand and provide the next Legislature with recommendations for doing in public power what it has so far been unable to do for itself.

"... In Order To Form A More Perfect Union ..."

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

Well, the world survived last weekend's dire predictions of disaster.

And—having lived through the hours of danger—we all got back to important business this week.

Walton

The City Council endorsed the honey bee.

The Sanitary District asked Salt Wahoo again if it can do what it has been saying it could do for months. Same answer.

Bernard Boyle and Frank Morrison drew headlines because they happened to talk to Orville Freeman at different times.

Ralph Beermann was told that he may continue doing what other congressmen have been doing for years.

Jayne Mansfield got lost.

Fiberglass dominated the sports news.

The governor showed up everywhere with a glass of milk in his hand.

A Republican announced he hoped to be elected governor so he could represent the "illegitimate" stepchildren of western Nebraska.

And Dick Nixon played the "Missouri Waltz" on the piano on the Jack Paar Show.

Nixon, holding forth for nearly an hour, talked rather freely.

If he didn't endorse Bob Kennedy for secretary of state, he came awfully close to it.

If he didn't suggest that the U.S. — if he had been president—would have overthrown Castro by U.S. armed force, he came close to it.

Nixon brought up published reports that Kennedy might be under consideration for a foreign policy post—possibly even secretary of state.

"In looking at Robert Kennedy, you have a man who —except for lack of experience which he is now gaining—has many qualities of leadership in foreign policy," Nixon declared.

Among them is a necessary quality of U.S. policy, he pointed out: "the will to win."

Nixon said the Cuban invasion should have received sufficient air support:

"Once the United States has committed its prestige to the overthrow of a communist regime, and once the decision was made, and once the troops sailed, there was no choice but to make it succeed."

Nixon went no further. But would not the obvious conclusion be that he would have committed American troops if that proved necessary to "make it succeed?"

History might have taken a different course with Nixon in the White House. Castro might now be gone from Cuba. Communism might now have been purged from the Americas.

But the coin has another side: We might now be at war. We might have lost everything in a bold gamble, where the alternative — patience and pressure—might give us ultimate success without loss.

If all had gone unfavorably, last weekend might actually have marked the end of the world.

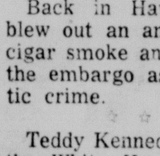

Don't mistake that for fear. Firmness has many forms. It is those who do not possess the strength and will to resist for decades, if necessary, who apparently fear the outcome.

The weak are often found among those who take an easy course of aggressive action—because the alternative is a wearing and sapping conflict seemingly without end.

To win without war is the ideal answer—for while we would "win" a war, the conquest would toss us all back perhaps to the dawn of civilization.

To win the long cold war struggle takes courage and guts.

The strong do not fear tomorrow so much that they must strike today.

DREW PEARSON

Cold War Ends Havana Cigars

WASHINGTON — Probably the strangest skirmish of the cold war has been building up between the Cuban communists who produce Havana cigars and the American capitalists who smoke them.

The Cubans recently began slipping propaganda messages into their cigar shipments, scrawled insults denouncing the Wall Street tycoons who could afford to smoke their product.

Some cigar addicts patriotically gave up the habit or switched to a free-world brand. But the majority, refusing to mix politics with their tobacco, went on smoking Havanas.

Last year, they purchased over $30,000,000 worth of Cuban tobacco, thus providing Dictator Castro with sound American dollars which he has been using to finance communist subversion throughout Latin America.

Result: President Kennedy who likes to puff on an occasional Havana himself, sternly ordered a ban on Cuban tobacco imports.

Back in Havana, Castro blew out an angry cloud of cigar smoke and condemned the embargo as a capitalistic crime.

Teddy Kennedy stopped by the White House the other day to talk to his brother Jack about the Senate seat that Jack gave up for his presidential rocking chair.

The youngest of the Kennedy brothers made it clear that he intends to enter the Senate race in Massachusetts. He quoted private polls to back his claim that he can win the Democratic nomination away from another famous political namesake—State Attorney General Ed McCormack, nephew of House Speaker John McCormack.

The President has no desire to clash with McCormack whose help he needs to push through his legislative program, so Teddy's decision put his brother on the spot. But the President promised not to interfere.

Any attempt to persuade either candidate to withdraw and run for governor instead, he said, would look like a political deal which would be resented by the voters.

"I guess you and Ed will have to fight it out," Jack shrugged.

Note—On Capitol Hill, Speaker McCormack has let it be known that he will support his nephew all the way. But he has also stressed that he wants no quarrel with the President.

Putting the delightful Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri in charge of a Senate investigation of stockpiling is like putting your wife in charge of investigating her overdrawn bank account. Stuart was the original stockpiler under Truman . . . he has been nervous as a cat on the Senate floor lately, keeps interrupting senatorial debate . . . Frank Ellis, who retires from strategic stockpiling to become a federal judge in Louisiana, was not involved in accumulating the oversized stock piles . . .

Livestock Issue

Lincoln, Neb.

The West Lincoln Village Board held a meeting Monday night, Feb. 5. Present at the meeting were the board members, the board's attorney and a number of us village home-owners. They were to rule on the keeping of livestock in the village.

I think there were too many of us who were interested in keeping livestock, so they postponed it until next meeting, Monday, March 5 at 8:00 p.m. at the schoolhouse.

I am extending an invitation to the City Council, the Health Department, the residents of Lincoln and all newsmen to come out and sit in on this meeting — but don't get too close to some of our board members because they are afraid of their shadows.

We are bound on the south by Norden Lab, farm and stock pens to the east and neighboring farms to the north, so why, when we are in the midst of this, all the concern over the small gathering of livestock inside the village? If horses can be kept in the elite neighborhoods on A Street and South Street, in Uni Place and Havelock, why not give us the same rights in West Lincoln?

One of the stock owners has in his possession a list of 77 of the 101 household heads who are in favor of livestock keeping in accordance with the health laws. Ponies in the village are kept solely as pets for the children and as hobbies. We would welcome a sanitation inspection at any time and can prove that the pony barns and yards are cleaner than some living quarters and yards where children play.

We people of West Lincoln elected the board members with the understanding that they were working for our good and not the good of outsiders. We had a good mayor, Mr. Jack Long. He was trying to help us and the village but resigned at the request of Mr. Benton.

One board member said they were giving us a good clean village with well-rocked roads but what he didn't say was that our tax levy is higher than in the city of Lincoln and yet the village treasury doesn't have funds to have ditches or gutters cleaned.

Speaking of gutters — on a recent Sunday morning about 8:00 a.m. I was going west on one of our well-rocked roads and found a car parked exactly in the middle of the road. On investigating, I discovered a boy of perhaps 15 or 16 and so intoxicated that he had just given up and stopped where he was. President Kennedy has appropriated funds to help in the juvenile delinquency problem. Would parents rather have children stay at home and take care of ponies and such, or go out like this young man?

If livestock is barred from the village, are the residents supposed to sit with their thumbs in their mouths on Sunday afternoons and watch their city cousins ride their horses up and down those well-rocked roads that they paid to have rocked?

Governor's Trip

Omaha, Neb.

Frank Sorrell was recently discharged as a member of the Liquor Control Commission of the state of Nebraska for performing a neighborly act by simply inserting in a newspaper the fact that two tavern owners in his county desired to sell their places of business. Nothing morally wrong with this—no diversion of state funds—not a single person hurt—yet Frank Sorrell was fired.

I have been told that Gov. Morrison recently had a state plane take him to Iowa City which was on Saturday, Jan. 20. Acompanying him was Mrs. Morrison. The state plane let the governor off at Iowa City and proceeded to take Mrs. Morrison to Chicago so she could catch a commercial plane to Washington. This added trip from Iowa City to Chicago and return was at the state's expense and expenditure of the taxpayers' money, which included gasoline, depreciation of the plane and the pilot's wages. Frank Morrison knew that this was in apparent violation of law and was wrong, and this was at the time he had made up his mind to fire Frank Sorrell for performing a charitable act while he himself was acting illegally in that state statutes provide that "state airplanes shall be for use and service in any branch of government with the expense thereof to be paid by the department."

Gov. Morrison fraudently drapes himself in the cloak of righteousness and integrity when judging others, but when judging himself and his own actions, dons the ugly garmets of deceit, artifice and political cunning.

F. R. HAZARD

Editor's Note: Norman Otto, administrative assistant to Gov. Morrison, reports that Mrs. Morrison had purchased a ticket for a regular commercial flight from Lincoln to Washington, D.C., Jan. 20 to attend the Democratic dinner. The commercial flight from Lincoln was cancelled when an emergency developed at take-off. In order to make her connection in Chicago, Mrs. Morrison flew to Iowa City with the governor who was to deliver a college convocation address. A private plane had been rented by the state from the Graf Aviation Company of Omaha for the governor's trip because the state plane was out of commission. Otto said instructions were given that the company make a separate billing for the flight from Iowa City to Chicago and back to Iowa City which would be charged to the governor's personal account. The Lincoln-to-Iowa-City and return trip was at state expense. Neither the governor nor the State Aeronautics Department has yet been billed for the trips.

U.S. Emotional Binge

The American press has been urged by one of its own members, Felix R. McKnight, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, to "take off the gloves and try to bring sanity to the emotional binge that has this country dangerously off balance." What he was referring to is the rash of groups that spring up from time to time on all sides of the political scene and their impact upon people.

The fear in this regard is that the extremism that is practiced today by so many people might destroy the principle of freedom of expression that has been so valuable throughout our history. Emotionalism is the abandonment of logical reasoning and the elimination of tolerance.

It is the type of thing that condemns people and programs on the basis of not what they stand for, but on their degree of conformity with a social or political philosophy. All of us need a certain fundamental group of principles to guide us but we need to pay a great deal of attention, too, to the application of these principles.

As a matter of principle, we may well be opposed to the idea of federal aid to private schools. Yet, as a matter of reality, we need to examine the possible alternative of placing private schools in an impossible competitive situation. It is not enough that we dismiss the problem on principle; we need to examine it from all angles. The same thing is true throughout the field of national and international affairs. We need to eliminate emotion from our decisions and get back to the passing of judgment based on the facts of a given situation.

Wire Tapping

The question of wire tapping by law enforcement officers is back again. This time it is by request of the U.S. Justice Department which has asked Congress to permit limited and controlled use of it.

By limited and controlled use, the Department means discretionary use in matters of espionage, treason, sabotage and subversion, and use by court order in intances of murder, extortion, kidnapping, narcotics, racketeering and gambling. That is to say that in those instances, other than in the matter of national security, sufficient justification would have to be given to the court before the facility could be employed. Wire tapping privileges would also be extended to state law enforcement, on court order, in instances of murder, bribery, narcotics and extortion.

In the case of national security it has always seemed to be dangerous nonsense to deny the protectors of our security a facility so easily and effectively used by the spies and subverters—as silly as denying to the military the essential weapons to protect the country from an adversary that is well equipped with them. Even if the results of wire tapping were not admissible as evidence, the information obtained would give the enforcement and detection forces a strong position from which to gather evidence that is admissible.

Less of an argument can be made for wire tapping in the case of crime itself. Tapping can lend itself to evidence rigging and has a hard time in other ways of meeting the sharp requirements of law as dependable testimony. And there is always the question of how control is going to be controlled. Nevertheless, a case can be made of it, if only as a device for leading to testimony and evidence which can unquestionably be defined as competent and dependable.

Hearing Did Not Budge The Marines

WASHINGTON — The best part of the present colorful chapters of the Stennis subcommittee hearings is that nobody panicked.

President Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara were prepared from the start to invoke executive privilege, if necessary, to protect subordinates who were carrying out orders. They deliberately held back so the hearings could bear witness that they were giving the committee everything it wanted except a few names.

Chairman John Stennis maintained his judicial calm with his colleagues as with the military. Whatever his personal opinion of the course Sen. J. Strom Thurmond and others were taking, he considered their requests gravely and enforced the courtroom decorum.

It was a break the administration could not have foreseen when Thurmond chose to take on the United States Marine Corps, which is well forward in any contest for the title of the biggest buzzsaw of them all. Then he added zest to the unequal struggle by dispatching a kind of road company Cohn and Schine team to investigate whether the Marines are really fit to fight communism.

☆ ☆ ☆

In a manner reminiscent of the bad old days, the Thurmond team tape-recorded their conversations with a Marine lieutenant colonel, then locked the doors on a group of enlisted men and officers while they gave them a written examination supposed to test their knowledge of communism.

Copies of the examination form were refused the Marine commandant, Gen. David M. Shoup, by Guenther Hartel of the Thurmond staff on the ground of "legislative privilege." This is presumably more legal than executive privilege, which Thurmond has said was equivalent to invoking the Fifth Amendment against compulsory self-incrimination.

The Marines as usual displayed their formidable solidarity. Unfortunately there were no tape recorders around when General Shoup made clear to McNamara his scorching view of the Marine interrogation as a "needless waste of time." He also said he couldn't answer all the questions himself and implied that there were others in the same boat who are not Marines.

The Marines who took the exam were said by Thurmond aides to have flunked, but this is not their story. They think they did all right, and anyway they are ready to fight when "Uncle Dave" says go.

General Shoup had made an effective appearance before the subcommittee in which he said bluntly that it did no good to teach Marines to hate an enemy. They were taught instead to love their country and be prepared to fight its enemies, wherever they might be.

A clue to the thinking of the investigators appeared on their departure. To the Marine officer who protested against forcing the interviewees to sign their questionnaires, the probers tossed the assurance that they only intended to use names where "leftist responses" appeared. Who would sit in judgment on that aspect, they did not specify.

Editorial Of The Day

Italy's "Opening To The Left"

From The New York Times

Having entered the age of affluence, Italy has now embarked on an admittedly risky experiment with the much-discussed "opening to the Left" in order to bring about social and economic reforms that would spread Italian economic recovery to the still impoverished masses.

To that end the middle-of-the-road Government of Premier Fanfani, which, like all Italian Governments since the war, depended on conservative and sometimes Right-Wing support, has resigned to pave the way for a new left-of-center Government. The latter would enlist the parliamentary support of Pietro Nenni's Left-Wing Socialists for the reforms without taking either Signor Nenni or any of his party comrades into the Cabinet.

This move, which reverses the policy of the last sixteen years, is considered at the moment as being of primarily domestic significance. Both President Gronchi and Premier Fanfani have favored the "opening to the Left," partly in an effort to woo the Nenni Socialists from any remaining ties with the Communists, but mainly because they believe reforms they want require Left-Wing Socialist support.

As outlined by Premier Fanfani, who is expected to head the new Government, these reforms call for a "new deal," including the decentralization of the state machinery, elimination of excessive concentration of capital in the hands of the few, a "just but severe" taxation system, expansion of education and a better economic balance between North and South, between the cities and the countryside.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Retiree Fights For Better Politics And Peace

By ROBERT PETERSON

Few elders engage in political activity. They may dislike present politicians. They may be outraged at the way things are done. But they are rarely roused to action—largely because they feel they are too old to fight.

Julius A. Migel, 84, may be just the man to imbue the nation's elders with a new realization of their strength. Last spring this retired yarn manufacturer in Charleston, Rhode Island, not only had the fortitude to oppose machine politics in his state but helped select and elect a promising new U.S. senator.

"It all started a little over a year ago when it was announced that Senator Francis Green of my state was going to retire at the ripe old age of 91," said Migel when I talked with him the other day. Migel is an aristocratic old gentleman with piercing brown eyes, white hair, a quick mind, and 14 grandchildren.

"We learned that the state political machine — whose choices invariably went uncontested—had chosen a successor to Green. But on checking the man's qualifications he seemed totally lacking in the kind of experience and understanding needed in Washington.

"So I sat down and wrote a letter to the editor of my newspaper, stating my objections to the candidate and calling for men to come forward who felt they could ably represent our state in the Senate and help the nation in its quest for peace.

"The editor ran the letter in the paper, and a few days later I got a reply from a young man in investment work named Claiborne Pell. He stated some of his qualifications and I was impressed. He was a Democrat and I'm a Republican. But I feel competence is above party lines, so some of us sent him a questionnaire asking for his views on a variety of subjects. He returned it with such splendid answers that I visited him and was quickly convinced he was the man for the job.

"We went to work and Pell won the primary election by an overwhelming majority. Then we buckled down to the long, hard task of getting him elected to the U.S. Senate.

"Pell was elected last November," said Migel with an unmistakable note of pride. "He was a wonderful candidate — energetic, tireless, brilliant, yet down-to-earth. And I'm extremely pleased with the stature he has attained in his first few months in office. I used to assume that one person—particularly one my age—couldn't do much to change the political scene. But the small role I was able to play in getting Pell elected makes me realize that the individual is still mighty important in our society."

Since Migel retired at 70 he has been working full time on a voluntary basis with the United World Federalists, Inc. in an effort to strengthen the United Nations. He believes strongly that the charter of this world organization must be revised. Says he, "If the world is to have peace, the UN must have the power to make law, it must have a court to adjudicate disputes, and it must have an international police force."

This man's story is inspiring for it demonstrates that an older person who has the initiative to exert himself may find he yields more persuasion and power than he thought possible.

District Court Verdict Reversed

A Keith County District Court verdict against Richard L. Pierce, a Keith County resident, on drunken driving charges was reversed and remanded for new trial by the State Supreme Court Friday.

The District Court had found Pierce guilty and had sentenced him to 5 days in the Keith County jail, imposed a $300 fine, and suspended his driving privileges for a year.

Pierce was arrested Dec. 19, 1960, in Ogallala.

In the opinion the high court cited several prejudicial errors occurring in the trial proceedings and said that Pierce was not given a fair and impartial trial.

In other action the court—

Reversed and remanded for a new trial a Scotts Bluff County District Court decision permitting a farmer to build a dike on his property to protect it against runoff water from an adjoining farm.

The court further ordered that a permanent injunction be placed by the District Court directing the dike to be removed.

The lower court had ruled in favor of Arthur L. Yocum in the case. Yocum had asserted that he was merely protecting his land against the surface water runoff and exercising irrigation in a more efficient and economical manner.

Two neighboring farmers, William Nichol and Arthur Pieper, however, asserted that the dike diverts the water onto their farms.

Nichol said that about 20 acres of his farm is covered with water after a heavy rain. Pieper said that about 5½ acres of his land is covered.

In the opinion issued Friday the high court said a land owner may retain or alter the course of surface water on his own land. He cannot, however, divert it upon the lands of others except through drainways, the court said.

—Reversed and remanded with directions a petition filed in Cheyenne County by Harvey E. Marsh, individually and as executor of the estate of his late father, Alfred E. Marsh, for a declaratory judgment construing the last will and testament of Alfred, who died in 1959.

—Reversed the Cheyenne District Court dismissal of an action brought by Olava M. Hansen against R. C. and Margaretha Smikahl.

The plaintiff sought to enjoin the defendants from interfering with her right to get to and from her trailer lot property to U.S. highway 30, and sought an easement of necessity across the defendants' land.

The Supreme Court held that the plaintiff is entitled to an easement on the Smikahl land.

—Affirmed a Douglas County decision in the divorce case, Goodman vs. Goodman.

—Affirmed in part, and in part reversed and remanded with directions a Douglas County decision in the divorce case, Safar vs. Safar.

Tax Study Unit Picks Surveyor

... DR. McCLELLAND HIRED

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislative Council Tax Study Committee Friday hired Dr. Harold F. McClelland, assistant professor of economics at Claremont College for Men, Claremont, Calif., to conduct its survey of Nebraska's tax structure.

McClelland

The 44-year-old former Nebraskan said he would provide a comprehensive study which would include a thorough look at the state's present tax system, a survey of current and projected expenditures of state government, and a study of additional sources of revenue including sales and income taxes.

Any study must seek to "put the current situation in order first," Dr. McClelland said.

When the present tax system has been completely analyzed and improved, the decision of whether the tax base should be broadened to include sales or income taxes should be based upon services the state wants to render and services the people want, he indicated.

Study Exemption

At the suggestion of Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton, Dr. McClelland agreed to include in the study the effect a homestead exemption would have if sales and income taxes were enacted.

The Legislature appropriated $30,000 to the committee to conduct the study. Dr. McClelland outlined a tentative budget of $25,000 which will include hiring 3 research assistants and clerical help.

Dr. McClelland will begin preliminary arrangements immediately and will proceed with the actual study June 1.

October Target

He set October 1 as target date for its completion, and October 15 as the absolute deadline.

Dr. McClelland's report and the committee's recommendations will not be made public until the Legislative Council meets in mid-November.

Born in Omaha, Dr. McClelland graduated from Hastings High School in 1935, received his BA degree from Hastings College in 1939 in economics and history.

Tax Thesis

He attained his MA degree from the University of Nebraska in 1940 in economics and history, and his thesis was "The Collection of Real Property Taxes."

In 1942 he received his MS degree from the University of Denver under the Sloan Fellowship Program in government management, and his subject of this thesis was "The Government of Mesa County, Colorado," an administrative study of city, county and school district operation.

In 1959 he received his doctor's degree from Harvard University in economics with emphasis on public finance, and the subject of his thesis was "Tax Aspects of Variable Annuity."

Supply Officer

A supply officer in the U.S. Naval Reserve from 1943 to 1946, he was engaged as manager and partner in a retail automobile dealership at Hastings from 1947 to 1955.

He has been at Claremont College since 1959 and in 1961 was administrative director of the college's tax seminar.

Dr. McClelland also has published several papers on fiscal matters.

He is married to the former Marian Ludlow of Central City. The couple has 3 children.

Push For More Attractive Nebraska Highways Starts

An all-out effort to make Nebraska highways attractive to the traveller was begun Friday with the organization of the Nebraska Roadside Council.

W. R. McGeachin, who pushed for the establishment of the council, pointed out the council "must treat this as a crash program, because Nebraska is so far behind other states in preparing for landscaping and roadside rest areas along the Interstate Highway."

He emphasized that the Kansas Highway Department has 13 landscape architects on its staff, and the Nebraska department has only one professional man assigned to the activity.

Dr. J. O. Young advised the group that it was understood that Gov. Frank Morrison had endorsed the objectives of the council and has selected his own advisory committee to cooperate with it.

Direction Sought

The council agreed to request the governor to direct that "experienced graduate landscape architects be employed as soon as practicable, to design and install an adequate system of landscaping and roadside rest areas on the Nebraska Interstate.

"Because the planting season begins in the near future, it is imperative that this pogram be undertaken without delay," the motion read.

Otto H. Liebers of Lincoln will serve as chairman of the council, while Robert B. Crosby also of Lincoln was named secretary.

Members of the council are:

Col. L. D. Densore, Byron Dunn, Mrs. M. F. Edwards, L. A. Enersen, Harry Gaylor, J. R. Kinder, McGeachin and Dr. Young, all of Lincoln; Walter Behlen of Columbus; Mrs. R. Gallagher, Mrs. Fern Irving, John Latenser and Michael Russillo, all of Omaha; Mrs. E. J. Huntemer of Grand Island; Gene Kemper of Alliance; Ted Korves of Fremont; Jack Lowe of Sidney; Clyde Licking of Seneca; Val Peterson of Hastings; Mrs. S. F. Taylor of Norfolk; M. Steinhart of Nebraska City; Joseph T. Vosoba of Wilber, and Glen Viehmeyer of North Platte.

Morrison's Candidacy Is Now Official

Gov. Frank Morrison officially completed his filing Friday in the Secretary of State's office for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

He is thus far opposed in the May 15 primary by Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks of McCook, widow of the late governor, and Tony Mangiamelli of Omaha.

Fred A. Seaton of Hastings still has the only official filing for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, but Harrison rancher George A. Clarke stated this week he also will file for the post.

Fred Sorensen of Omaha completed his filing as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Railway Commissioner.

Francis H. Hanson of Tekamah also has filed for the Democratic nomination.

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton filed for a 4th consecutive term from the 14th Legislative District.

G. E. Shallenberger of Elwood filed for director of the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District, and Carl Oliver of North Loup filed for director of the Loup Valley Rural Public Power District.

Youth Is Treated And Released After Mishap

James D. Lentz, 19, of 1320 G was released after treatment at a local hospital Friday for injuries sustained in a two-car collision.

Lentz's car and one driven by William Thomsen, 30, of 1538 So. 18th, collided at the intersection of 14th and G Friday afternoon. Lentz had been driving east on G, and Thomsen south on 14th, police said.

Special Session Needed

IF U.N. BOND PLAN FAILS

Washington (UPI) — State Department officials said Friday an emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly probably will be necessary if member nations do not buy the proposed 200 million bond issue to finance U.N. Congo operations.

Assistant Secretary of State Harlan Cleveland told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the United Nations has made no assessments for Congo operations beyond July 1 and is relying entirely on the proposed bond issue.

"Does this mean bonds or nothing?" asked Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt.

Philip M.Klutznick, Deputy U.S. representative to the United Nations, said that if the bond issue fails, "there will be a need for an emergency session" of the General Assembly to find some other means of financing Congo operations.

Cleveland Klutznick testified in support of President Kennedy's proposal to buy half of the $200 million bonds.

Klutznick told the committee that U.S. purchase of $100 million of the bonds would "demonstrate support that would have a far greater moral and spiritual value than the monetary value."

Failure, he said, would be a blow to the morale of the U.N. Congo team "far greater than the dollars involved."

U.S. Blocks Take-Over Of Corridor

Berlin (AP) — The United States and its Western Allies blocked a Soviet bid for a partial take-over of the air corridors that link isolated West Berlin to the outside world, it was disclosed Friday.

Inside the divided city itself Col. Andrei I. Solovyev, the Soviet commander, failed to break a ban on his entering the U.S. sector. He turned back without a word when an American military policeman at the Communist wall asked him:

"Are you Col. Solovyev?"

The two incidents threatened to heat up the atmosphere in Berlin, which has been relatively relaxed since the new year.

Planes flying to and from West Berlin cross 110 miles of Communist East German territory through one of 3 corridors. Use of the corridors is regulated by the Berlin Air Safety Center, one of the last places in Berlin where Soviet officers still work with American, British and French representatives. The center has been operating in West Berlin ever since the end of World War II.

Reservation Sought

On Wednesday, a Soviet officer at the center startled American, British and French officers with the request to reserve the Frankfurt, Berlin corridor up to an altitude of 7,000 feet for 3 hours and 20 minutes on the following morning. The space was needed, he said, for Soviet military transports.

No, said the Western allies. The rules call for all flights in the corridors to be announced separately — no booking of "blocks of altitude."

On Thursday the Soviet officer came back with another request. He wanted the Berlin-Hannover and the Berlin-Hamburg corridors reserved for 4 hours Friday morning, up to 7,000 feet.

No, said the Allies again.

Both times the Western controllers served notice Western commercial and military planes would be flying the corridors as usual.

They did so Friday, with Gen. Lucius Clay, President Kennedy's envoy to Berlin, and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt aboard one of the transports which tested what the Soviets would do.

They did nothing.

Fun News In Suburbia

The fact that the flu bug has been spreading through the suburbs with great speed does not seem to be curtailing children's birthday parties in the least as we have several to mention this morning. There is also a new baby and some new residents to add to the list this morning as well as several guests.

MEADOW LANE

Birthday time for Susan Noble was Tuesday, Jan. 23, when she celebrated her seventh birthday. Susan had a party in the afternoon to which 10 guests were invited. The children went to Wayne West's Cartoon Party and were on television, then returned to Susan's home where they indulged in the traditional ice cream and cake. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Noble, Jr.

And flipping the pages in our birthday book to February, we discovered the birthday anniversary of Lisa Drew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Drew. Lisa was four years old on Thursday and invited eight guests to her party which was held during the afternoon.

Those attending were Lisa Lorenzen, Susie Dienes, Laurie Lorenzen, Barbara Betts, Laurie Bartels, Tammy Smithey, Ann Simpson, and Lisa's sister, Kelly. The children spent the afternoon playing games followed by supper at the Drew home.

The baby we mentioned earlier is the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. La Verne Stetson. Her name is Helen Irene and she was born on Wednesday, Jan. 31, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Helen has a sister, Patricia, and two brothers, Corky and Ronnie.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stetson of Crawford, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wasserburger of Waterloo. Mrs. Wasserburger, incidentally, was visiting in the suburb last week to get acquainted with her new granddaughter and also eager to get a peek at Helen Irene are Mr. and Mrs. Stetson who are guests in town this week.

Maj. and Mrs. Fred Langille are on the list of new residents. Maj. Langille and his family moved to Lincoln last month after spending the last five months in Texas where he was attending Missile School. However, before residing in Texas, the family spent four very enjoyable years living in Hawaii, we understand.

Their children are Lt. David Langille, who is stationed at Chandler, Ariz.; Fred Jr., who is attending the University of Michigan; Marjorie, who is a freshman at the University of Nebraska; Barbara, a sophomore at Northeast High School; and Jean, who is in kindergarten at Meadow Lane.

Maj. Langille and his family are residing at 7201 York Lane.

Next Thursday, Mrs. John Schafer will be hostess to her neighborhood bridge club. Those attending will be Mrs. Elroy Frank, Mrs. James Fisher, Mrs. Darwin Kechley, Mrs. James Petersen, Mrs. Phil Agee, Mrs. Carl Crozier and Mrs. Richard Walgreen.

EASTBOROUGH

Eastborough is also boasting a birthday celebrant. She is Renee Spale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spale. Renee was three years old on Wednesday, Feb. 7, which also was the day of her birthday party to which she invited 10 guests. They were Cheryl Kelsay, Joan Degenhardt, Robbie Hogg, Theresa Kelsay, Priscilla Kumph, Alice Degenhardt, Kathy Karel, Pat Spale, Pamela Kumph, and Denise Spale.

A party highlight was the birthday cake which was in the shape of a duck.

There have been guests this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Erlewine. Mrs. Erlewine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Manning, arrived on Wednesday from their home in Central City. Mr. Manning left to return home on Thursday, but Mrs. Manning remained until Friday for a longer visit.

The Northeast unit of the League of Women Voters met on Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Gene B. Hardy. There were eight members attending the meeting.

And we learned that Mrs. W. L. Thompson entertained two tables of bridge at her home on Thursday evening.

DAR Elects Delegates

At the recent meeting of Deborah Avery Chapter, DAR, the members elected delegates to the Continental Congress of DAR, to be held in April at Washington, D.C., and to the state conference, planned for March 21 to 23, at Falls City.

Representing the chapter at the national meeting will be the regent, Mrs. Guy M. Harris, Mrs. Joel McLafferty and Mrs. B. C. McLean, and alternates, Mrs. W. M. Folger, Mrs. C. E. R. Edmond, Mrs. Daniel Hurst, Miss Irma Jean Croft, Mrs. Robert Wekesser, and Mrs. W. L. Deneke.

State convention delegates will be Mrs. Harris, Mrs. P. E. Hall, Mrs. W. E. Oxley, Mrs. Nellye Knight, Mrs. Gerald Rosenberger and Miss Croft.

Forecast For April

The Lincoln Public School Faculty Wives entertained all faculty women of the Lincoln Schools Thursday evening at a spring fashion show for which Mrs. Boyd Thompson was chairman.

Modeling feminine finery are club members (from the left), Mrs. Paul Fredstrom, Mrs. Henry Willensen, Mrs. Alden Johnson and Mrs. James Keill. Other models were Mrs. Charles Seng, Mrs. Dan Conway, Mrs. Eugene Cotter and Mrs. Watson Coleman.

The bidding:

Opening lead — ten of hearts.

You don't see the defenders' hands when you are the declarer, but as play progresses it often becomes possible to diagnose their respective holdings and thus play the hand to the best advantage.

Here is a case that shows how it's done. South is in five diamonds and West leads the ten of hearts. East overtakes with the jack and continues with the ace.

Declarer ruffs high and enters dummy with a diamond to lead a low spade to the queen. The finesse succeeds, as South has a right to expect from the bidding, and he then plays out all his trumps.

Declarer hopes that the clubs are divided 3-3, but he also knows that if they are not he is still sure to make the hand. There is no possible combination of cards that can defeat him.

Accordingly, he cashes the A-K of clubs and plays a club to the queen. East shows out on the third club and is forced to discard a heart. He cannot spare a spade, because that would permit declarer to lead a low spade and catch the king.

South now knows that East has the K-x of spades and the king of hearts left. He knows that East started with five hearts, three diamonds, two clubs, and hence, three spades.

He therefore leads the nine of hearts from dummy and on it discards his club. East wins the heart with the king, but is then compelled to lead a spade, permitting South to win the last two tricks with the jack and ace. The defense wins two heart tricks in the hand, but no more.

Dear Abby

You Were Wrong

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I received a wedding invitation from a friend of mine whose son was being married. Written on the invitation was a note, "Say, Mable, this is for the whole family." Abby, our six children are all married and have children of their own, all living miles apart, and my friend expected me to get them all together. Just for her sake, I telephoned each one and not one would accept an invitation like that. My husband said he didn't blame them. Then he got stubborn and refused to go, so I had to stay home because it would have looked bad to go without him.

Now my friend is down on me. These people could well have afforded an invitation for each family. Was I wrong?

BUSTED FRIENDSHIP

DEAR BUSTED: I don't blame your children for not attending. Perhaps you should have called your friend and suggested she send each of your married children an invitation if she wanted them at the wedding. You and your husband should have attended. Why make a formal mountain out of an informal molehill?

DEAR ABBY: When a girl asks a boy to a girl-ask-boy party, is she supposed to pick him up, pay for everything and see him home?

BIG ARGUMENT

DEAR BIG: No. The girl asks the boy if he will ESCORT her. After that, the date is on him.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My wife died a month ago and I am 57 years old. She was a good wife, and I know she wouldn't care if I got married again. I am a lonely man, any anyone who went through what I did would understand.

I met a woman at a drive-in. It was funny how we met. She is 52 and her husband has been dead for about four years. We sure did hit it off great! We want to get married. We know people will say we knew each other before my wife died, but that isn't true. We figure they will talk about us if we get married in two months or two years from now. I think we will make it three months, and let them talk. I would like your advice.

WANTS TO MARRY

DEAR WANTS: The customary wait before remarrying is one year. But wait as long as your conscience dictates.

It Seams To Me

Easy—And Worth A Giggle

Patricia Scott

This apron is designed specifically to be worn over slacks for a messy job.

You'll Need: 2 yards of striped mattress ticking; ½ yard of red broadcloth; and 2 strips of elastic.

To Make:

1. Measure the distance from your waist to about 3 inches below your knees. Add one inch for top and bottom seam allowance.

2. Cut two pieces (apron and lining) as long as this measurement, and 22 inches wide. Fold the two pieces in half lengthwise and mark the point on the fold 13 inches below the waist. Now, along the bottom edge, measure in 8 inches from the open ends of the piece toward the fold and mark. Draw a line connecting these two points, forming a pants leg. Cut away the extra fabric along this line.

3. From the remaining length of fabric, cut the waistband, 2 yards long and 4 inches wide.

4. Place the apron and lining pieces right sides together. Stitch them together around all sides except top (waist).

6. Fold and pin two 1-inch deep pleats over each hip at the top of the apron.

7. Pin the waistband to waist of the apron, right sides together, and with raw edges meeting. Center the waistband on the apron so the loose tie ends are the same length on each side. Stitch the waistband to the apron.

8. Fold the band over to the wrong side of the apron. Turn the raw edge of the band under ½ inch and pin it to the apron. Fold the loose tie ends in half with raw edges turned in ½ inch. Starting at the end of one tie, top stitch the open edges closed. Continue on, stitching the waistband to the apron

9. To make the patch pockets, cut the red broadcloth into two pieces, each 10" x 24". Fold each pocket in half, right sides together so that they measure 10" x 12". Stitch down both 12-inch sides of the pockets, leaving the 10-inch sides open. Turn to the right side and press. The fold is the top of the pocket. Turn in the raw edges of the pocket's bottom ½ inch and press. Pin the pockets to the apron and top-stitch them in place.

10. Attach a strip of elastic to the bottom edge of each leg on the wrong side.

Ship Collisions Up

Tokyo (UPI) — Ship collisions killed 91 persons in Japanese waters in 1961, an increase of 23 over the previous year, the Maritime Safety Agency reported. It said there were 573 marine accidents, an increase of 85 over 1960.

Romney Weighs Decision

Michigan GOP Hopes He Will Say 'Yes'

Detroit (AP) — George Romney sought last-minute "guidance beyond that of man" Friday night on whether he should seek the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan.

Romney

Romney, 54 year-old president of American Motors Corp., has promised a decision on his political future at a Saturday news conference.

Michigan republicans make no bones of hoping for a "yes," and are suggesting gubernatorial success could lead to the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

Romney is a debout man who holds an office in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints equivalent to that of bishop.

Returns Home

He returned to his home in suburban Bloomfield Hills from a busy day at Michigan's constitutional convention in Lansing. He is a delegate to and a vice president of the convention, which is attempting to rewrite the state's basic law of 1908.

Intimates say Romney began a 24-hour fast Thursday and said he would seek "prayerful guidance" Friday night. Fasting, practiced at least one Sunday monthly by his church, has been a practice of his before reaching major personal or business decisions.

Company spokesmen said at least 75 newsmen from various sections of the country are expected at Saturday's conference in the Veterans Memorial Building.

While Romney kept future plans to himself, speculation increased that he would give up his AMC post to enter politics fulltime.

Lana Recovering Following Collapse

Hollywood (UPI)—Actress Lana Turner, who collapsed on a movie set Thursday night during a birthday party in her honor was reported resting comfortably Friday at Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital.

"Miss Turner had a good night," a spokesman said. The blonde star—42 Thursday—probably will return to work Monday on the movie "Who's Got the Action?"

Jayne Displays Her Insect Bites, Ankle To Thigh

Nassau, Bahamas (UPI)—Jayne Mansfield showed a pattern of insect bites from ankle to thigh Friday to prove that she did too spend a night on a coral reef after a boating accident that will go down as one of the lesser sagas of the sea.

The 28-year-old blonde actress received the press in her hospital room and not only substantiated but improved the story told by her husband, weightlifter Mickey Hargitay, of a harrowing night on the reef after a shark scare.

Hargitay said his wife panicked and upset the boat because she thought sharks were after her.

Jayne reported:

"I am just out of my head on sharks."

Ribicoff Reported Senate Candidate

New Haven, Conn. (AP) — Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham Ribicoff assured Democratic leaders here Friday that he is definitely a candidate for the U.S. Senate nomination.

Key leaders, who did not wish to be quoted by name, said the former governor gave this assurance at a meeting at the home of Democratic National Committeeman John M. Golden.

Ribicoff met with Golden, Mayor Richard C. Lee, and other key party leaders in the area.

Some of these leaders quoted him as saying he was an active candidate for the nomination and would go all the way, to a primary if necessary, to win it.

The meeting at Golden's home was not open to the press.

Laos Complains Truce Violated

Vientiane, Laos (UPI)—The royal Laotian government has accused the pro-communist rebels of 5 separate violations of the Laotian ceasefire in formal complaints to the International Control Commission.

Reliable sources said the pro-Western government's complaints were made over a period of two days to the 3-member commission composed of representatives from India, Canada and Poland.

What A Difference 16 Years Makes—

Bobby Gives PT Pin To Skipper Who Hit Jack

Tokyo (Saturday (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, looking a bit haggard after his 6-day Japanese visit, left Saturday for Hong Kong. There he planned a weekend of rest before flying on to Indonesia, the next official stop on his round-the-world good will tour.

A large crowd of Japanese cheered and waved goodbye as Kennedy and his wife boarded their Japan Airlines plane.

Tokyo (Saturday) — President Kennedy's touring brother unhooked his tie pin Friday and gave it to Koehei Hanami in a good will gesture that shows the difference 16 years can make.

Robert F. Kennedy's tie pin was a miniature of the U.S. Navy PT boat 109, the craft commanded by John F. Kennedy that was rammed and sunk by the Japanese destroyer Amagiri Aug. 1, 1943.

Hanami, now mayor of the farming village of Shiokamachi, was the Amagiri's World War II skipper.

Surprise Meeting

The ex-captain and 3 of the destroyer's crewmen greeted the U.S. attorney general at a reception by the Japan Institute of Foreign Affairs The meeting, a surprise for Kennedy, was arranged by Dr. Gunji Hosono, a translator of the President's books.

Hanami, now 52, gave Kennedy a picture of Mt. Fuji that was painted by a friend. The ex-crewmen on hand were Yoshitaka Yamazaka, an administrator at Hiroshima University; Dr. Akira Nakajima, Tokyo University Medical School lecturer, and Yoshiro Niwa, a Tokyo businessman.

The campaign in Tokyo took Kennedy into a roundtable discussion Friday with 6 Japanese leftist labor leaders who were highly critical of the United States.

"Do you really believe the present U.S. administration is run by monopoly capitalism —a government that has raised the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour, that has improved Social Security?" he demanded. "Do you believe this is imperialism?

"You are 100 years behind the times."

Kennedy asked Akira Iwai to visit America because "I think you have complete misconceptions about the United States."

"As an amateur in diplomacy, you confuse me," Kennedy said.

Iwai is secretary-general of Sohyo, a leftist council of trade unions that claims 3.5 million members.

He and the others seemed impressed.

"Pretty good, isn't he?" Iwai said later. "Quite a fellow."

But as to visiting America, he said he can't spare the time.

Highway 30 Unit Gives $500 For Promoting Travel

A 5-member Highway 30 Association delegation presented a $500 check to Governor Morrison and Eugene Baker of the State Game Commission Friday to help promote tourism in Nebraska.

Morrison accepted the check and told the delegation that Nebraska has great tourist potential.

The check was presented by Kenneth Brown of Lexington. Brown told the governor it was a tool with which he could work to continue his efforts in the tourism field.

Members of the delegation with Brown were W. J. Bradford of North Platte, Harlan Widner of North Platte; John K. Hammer of Kearney and Dean Cannot of Kearney.

Memo From
BARTLETT E. ("PAT") BOYLES
MAYOR, CITY OF LINCOLN

As mayor of Lincoln, I am always interested in the growth of our city. With KFOR's recent increase in power, Lincoln now has another method of communication with an even larger area of eastern Nebraska. I have been able to watch KFOR's newsgathering organization as the station covers events at City Hall and the police and fire departments, and I am convinced that KFOR's news operation is among the best radio news operations in Nebraska. Coupled with two mobile units, each equipped with shortwave radio communications equipment, KFOR's information-gathering facilities are complete. It is good to know that KFOR is now even more powerful than ever before, and its accurate news will reach more Nebraska people.

LIGHT OF THE WORLD

CHRISTIANITY, or COMMUNISM... Which side are YOU on? There is a distinct line, "THE IRON CURTAIN," separating the two. Communism is an atheistic, materialistic, scientific, political conspiracy, alligned against God. Communism says, "DOWN WITH THE CROSS!" It declares Man is state-owned property. Christianity, the Bible and God are on one side. The hammer, sickle and Communism on the other. If you are a Communist, you are Godless. If you love God, you are not a communist. Freedom and a sense of human worth are the Bible's gift to mankind. The hammer blows will falter! The sickle's edge will grow dull! The Bible and the church will endure. WHICH SIDE ARE YOU ON?

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Coach Dick Goeglein's Lincoln Southeast wrestlers come through when the chips are down.

The Knights, trailing by 7 points with 5 matches remaining, produced 5 straight champions to nip Lincoln High 108-106 for the Class A District championship at the Public Schools Activities Building.

Carel Stith, heaviest of the beef brigade that produced the championship, climaxed the dramatic Southeast rally with a narrow 4-3 decision over Lincoln High's Wally Cheasbro in the heavyweight finals.

A pair of football linemen, Don Gerhardt and Bruce Wright, were the other Knights who refused to wilt under pressure.

Wright decisioned old nemesis Willie Sheppard, for the 180-pound title and Gerhardt rallied to decision Harold Harlow of Grand Island, 7-4, in the 165 pound finals.

The Southeast comeback in Nebraska's fastest growing high school sport, dimmed a brilliant Lincoln High performance in the lower weight classes.

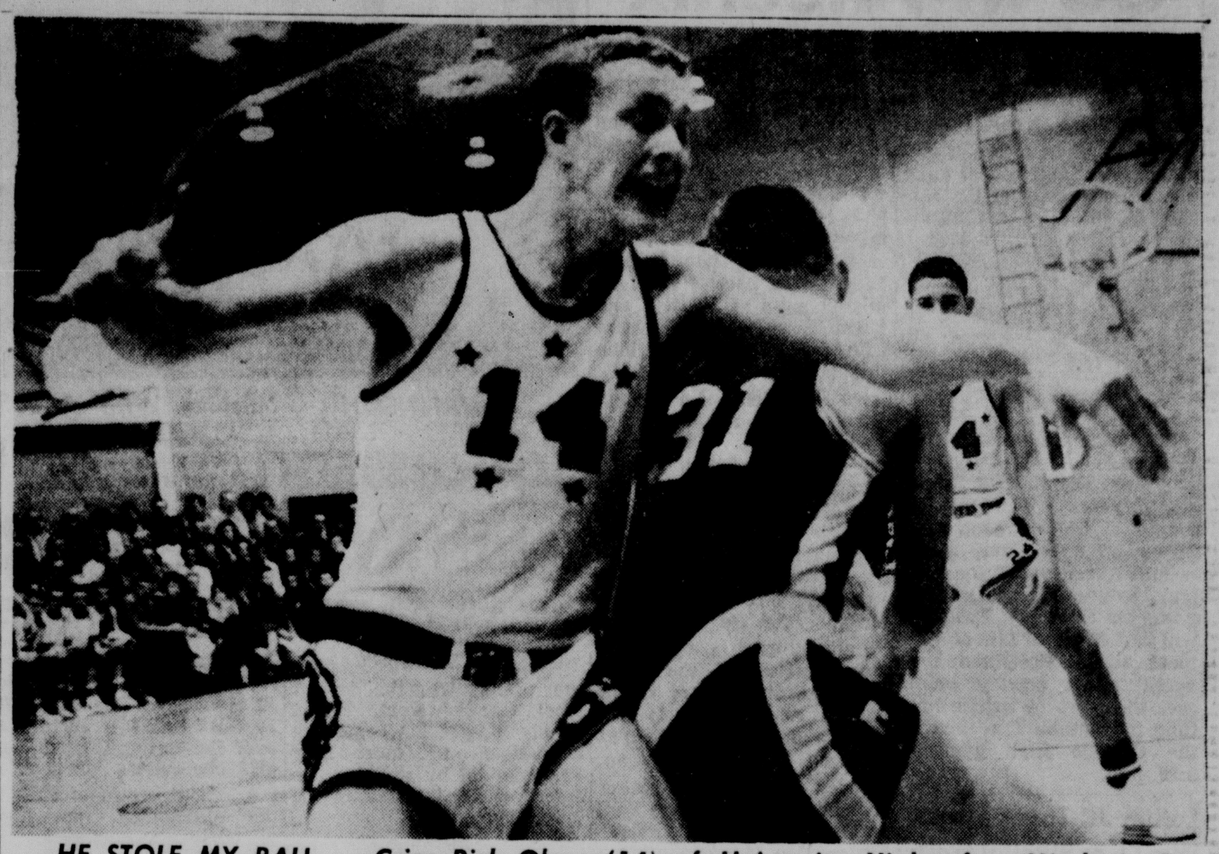

The Links won district titles in the 3 lowest weight classes and qualified a man for the state tourney in every class to 145 pounds.

The Links mighty midget Ron Bridegan, the defending state 95-pound champ, easily was the class of the tourney. The Lincoln High senior won 3 straight matches with pins and copped his crown with a conquest of Doug Young of Holdrege in 3:19 of the finals.

Best match of the evening was the 103-pound clash between Mike Disney of Lincoln High and Ralph Garcia of Northeast. The two finished their 6 minute bout all even on points at 4-4 but Disney picked up a bonus point for riding time and was awarded the crown.

Leon Brand of Kearney was the only wrestler to crack the Capital City monopoly in the finals. Brand jumped to an early lead and hung on grimly to decision Arnold Jones of Lincoln High in the 138-pound finals.

Southeast and Lincoln High each qualified 9 men for the state tournament. Grand Island placed 8 in the state meet, Northeast 4, Kearney 3, Holdrege 2, Pius X 1, and Hastings failed to place.

Rockets Return For 49-32 Win

By TOM HUTSON
Star Sports Writer

Lincoln Northeast survived a shoddy first quarter and came back on the double-barreled scoring of Dave Lebsack and Jerry Motz to down Beatrice, 49-32, at the Northeast gym Friday night.

The listless Rockets were frigid afield in the opening quarter connecting on only two of 12 field goal attempts, and found themselves trailing, 9-6, going into the second stanza.

But then Coach Ed Johnson's crew tightened the defensive screws and limited the visiting Orangemen to a meager 3 points in the second quarter while Northeast rolled to a 17-12 intermission margin.

After halftime, Beatrice pulled up 23-20 on Jim Rikli's driving lay-in, but sophomore smoothy Motz countered with 3 straight buckets to boost Northeast to a 29-20 lead.

The Rockets were never within reach after that as Lebsack pumped in 10 points in the final quarter on follow shots and free throws.

The Rockets bettered the visitors from the field after a slow start. Northeast shot 39% from the floor while Beatrice managed 32% of its field tries.

Lebsack ended with 22 points while Motz added 12. Motz and Chuck Squier provided rebounding strength for Northeast.

Forward Jon Ogden was hampered by 3 fouls early in the game and saw limited action.

Beatrice Errant

Beatrice nearly had an upset in the making, but fell apart because of numerous mechanical errors.

Rikli paced the Beatrice scoring with 8 points and Eldon Weimers contributed 6.

The Northeast win upped the Rocket record to 9-2. Tonight Northeast travels to Fremont for an all-important contest.

Plainsmen Ripped By 'Cats, 82-67

Wayne—Foul trouble and an inability to hit from the free throw line proved costly to Nebraska Wesleyan here Friday night as they were defeated by Wayne, 82-67.

The Wildcats sunk only one more field goal than Wesleyan, but connected on 26 of 32 charity tosses while the Plainsmen could manage just 13 of 27.

Wesleyan trailed by as much as 8 points in the first half but crept to within 4 points at halftime, 33-29. The Plainsmen could convert only 3 of 13 free throw attempts during the first twenty minutes.

Wesleyan moved into the lead, 35-34, with 18:26 remaining in the second half, but the Wildcats jumped back ahead at 36-35 and led the rest of the way.

The Wesleyan second half effort was hampered by the loss of Daryl Mitchell and Ed Stevens on personal fouls. In addition, Chet Paul, Jim Munford and Don Beckman all played with 4 personals for most of the second stanza.

The loss dropped the Plainsmen into a second place tie with Wayne; both teams are now 6-2 in Nebraska College Conference play. The Wildcats will make a challenge for Peru's top position Saturday night at Peru. Peru leads the NCC with a 7-1 mark.

Larry Coney led the Wildcat attack with 23 points and Munford was high for Wesleyan with 24.

Big Opening Half Gives Tutors Win Over Minden

...UNI HIGH LEADS ONCE BY 36-4

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Writer

University High used a big 1st half lead to stave off a 2nd half comeback by Minden Friday night in taking a 61-43 win over the Whippets on the Uni court.

Minden had to play catch-up ball from the outset as the Tutors raced to a 9-0 lead before the Whippets got their 1st field goal with nearly 4 minutes gone on a jump shot by Jerry Petersen.

Rick Olson and Ross Johnson led the big 1st quarter surge for Coach Dale Snook's University High cagers. Olson and Johnson each pumped in 7 points in boosting the Tutors to an 18-2 1st quarter advantage.

Minden turned cold again after Petersen's basket and didn't score again until Leroy Bell stole the ball and drove in for the layup after nearly one minute had gone by in the 2nd quarter.

Tutors Build Lead

The Tutors had built up a 22-2 lead in the meantime with two free throws by George Zarins and a layin by Olson to open the 2nd quarter.

After Bell's field goal made it 22-4, University High then shut the door on the Whippets while romping to a 36-4 margin with Steve Butts hitting 3 fielders to lead the splurge.

After increasing the margin to 38-10 by the halfway point, the Tutors faced an entirely different team in the 2nd half.

Minden shifted to a pressing defense midway in the 1st quarter after opening the game with a zone. The press, which hadn't bothered University High during the 1st half, began to give the Tutors trouble after the intermission.

With Petersen and reserve LaMoine Meester sparking the comeback, Minden outscored University High by 22-16 during the 3rd stanza to pull within 22 points. But the margin was too much to overcome and despite outscoring the Tutors again in the final quarter, Minden could not make up the big 1st half deficit.

The Minden full-court press took its greatest toll during the 4th quarter when the Whippets held Uni High without a field goal for nearly 6 minutes while stealing several of the Tutors' passes and forcing numerous errors.

Petersen led the Minden scoring with 12 points while Olson topped the Tutors with 22. The loss leaves Minden with an 8-4 record and gives University high a 9-3 mark.

Tigers Set Point Mark Over Links

Lincoln Star Special

Hastings — Hastings set a school scoring record in taking an 87-52 decision over Lincoln High here Friday night.

The old record of 82 points was set in an 82-42 victory over Kearney in 1957. Hastings opened with a 5-0 lead Friday night before Al Cooke broke the scoring ice for the Links with a field goal after 2½ minutes had elapsed.

The Tigers led by 9 after one quarter and by 19 just before the end of the opening half. The biggest lead of the night came at 87-50 with only 31 seconds left in the game.

Hastings controlled both boards, outrebounding the Links by 56-21. The Links lost Doug LaPage and Dave Hollibaugh on fouls midway in the 3rd quarter and Mike Glenn fouled out in the final quarter.

Bock Sparks SE To 58-51 Victory

Sophomore Steve Bock was the big hero Friday night as the Knights from Southeast took a 58-51 cage win from visiting Pius X.

Bock dumped in 19 points and joined his mates in a near complete domination of the rebounds which ultimately spelled doom for the much shorter Thunderbolts.

Coach Bob Lohrberg's quintet appeared enroute to an easy victory, but Pius X caught fire in the final period and almost pulled an upset.

Southeast roared to a 16-6 lead at the end of the first period and took a 32-20 margin into the dressing room at halftime.

The Knights opened up a 15-point margin once in the 3rd stanza and lead 43-33 entering the stretch.

Then it was coach Vince Aldrich's boys turn to make a bid for victory.

With Dale Champoux, Pat Fitzpatrick and Bob Sawdon all bitting fielders in that order Pius X closed the Southeast lead to 45-43 with 5:28 left to play.

But the Pius X hopes for an upset were short lived as the Knights moved out in front 51-43 before the losers could again manage a point.

Transfer student Dennis Johnson of Springville, Utah aided the winner's cause with 10 points and was also high on the boards to grab several key rebounds.

Pius X played almost the entire game with 5 juniors. Sawdon paced the Thunderbolts with 16 points despite the fact he wasn't a starter.

Center Jim Sullivan was limited to first quarter play when he picked up 4 fouls in the first 6 minutes of action.

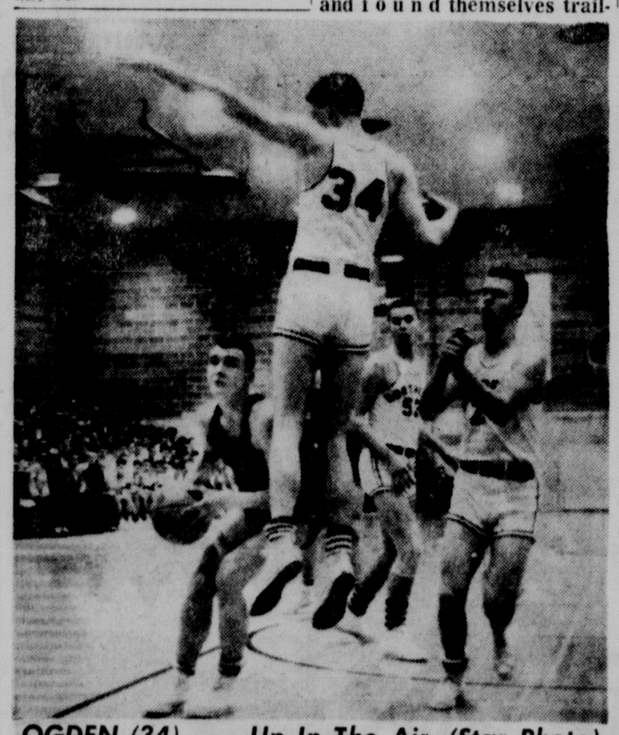

Fitzpatrick aided the Piux X cause with 12 points and Tom McGovern chipped in 10.

The two teams will play an encore soon. They are paired in the opening game of the Class A district tournament at Pershing Auditorium on Feb. 28.

Southeast won the reserve game, 56-37.

Some 2250 fans packed their way into the Southeast Gym to watch the tilt and nearly 400 of them had to stand to watch the battle.

Seven Americans Enter New '61 Track Records

London (AP)—Sprinter Frank Budd, discus-thrower Jay Silvester and two teammates from Tennessee State, Wilma Rudolph and Ralph Boston, shared American listings Friday in the newly-approved world track and field records.

The International Amateur Athletic Federation announced ratification of 22 records set between Feb. 1 and Dec. 31 last year.

Seven of the records were hung up by Americans, 9 by the Russians.

Budd, the Olympic speedster from Asbury Park, N.J., was credited with the world mark for the 100-yard dash with a 9.2 second clocking set in New York last July 25.

Previously the distance had been run in 9.3 by Dennis Johnson of the West Indies and Harry Jerome of Canada.

Budd also shared in the 400-meter relay record of 39.1 seconds, set in the U.S.-Russian track meet at Moscow on July 15. He ran on a team which included Hayes Jones, Charles Frazier and Paul Drayton.

The fabulous Miss Rudolph, triple gold medalist in the 1960 Olympic games at Rome, figured in two records.

She was credited with the best time in the women's 100-meter run—11.2 seconds, set at Stuttgart, West Germany, last July 19—and she anchored the team which set a new mark in the 400-meter relay at Moscow last July 15.

The time in the latter event was 44.3 seconds. Her teammates were Willye White, Ernestine Pollards and Vivian Brown.

Boston went into the record books with the longest broad jump — 27 feet, 1¾ inches at Moscow last July 16. He had hung up an intermediate mark of 27 feet ½ inch at Modesto, Calif., May 27.

Palmer Shoots 68 In Phoenix

. . . CARRIES 5-STROKE LEAD

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP) — Defending champion Arnold Palmer eagled the course's longest hole Friday and rushed up to the halfway point of the $35,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament with a 5 stroke lead.

The big belter shot a 3-under-par 68 to go with his brilliant 64 of Thursday for a 36-hole total of 132 — 10 under par. Thus, he gained two strokes on second running Art Wall Jr., who scrambled for a 70 Friday after an opening round 67.

Palmer, who birdied 6 of his first 7 holes in the opening round, cooled off considerably at the start Friday. Playing the back 9 first, he missed putts of 3½ feet and 1 foot for bogies, off-set them with a pair of birdies, then turned in even par.

He came out of the sand for a birdie 4 at the number one hole, his 10th, and matched par from there until he came up with the greatest feat of the tournament on the 549-yard par-5 seventh hole. A tremendous drive and an unbelievable No. 1 iron left him with only a 3-foot putt for an eagle. He got it.

Palmer nearly chopped another stroke off the 6,765-yard Phoenix Country Club's par 71 on his next to last hole, where a 45-foot putt hung on the lip of the cup.

Seven strokes back of Palmer and two behind Wall at 139 are Johnny Pott, Gene Littler, Don Massengale, Bob McCalister, Rob Rosburg and Gardner Dickinson.

Jack Nicklaus, the 1961 U.S. amateur champion playing his 6th tournament as a pro, slipped to a two-over 7 and a 36-hole score of 142.

It was remarkable that Wall remained as close to Palmer as he did. The lean man from Pocono Manor, Pa., had to make amazing recovery shots in a round which found him stymied by huge trees 3 times. Once he went out of bounds with a 9 iron.

Dopping putts of 6 to 10 feet consistently saved him.

Palmer, who hit 17 greens in regulation, said "I played darn near as well as Thursday. I just didn't make any putts."

He took 31 putts and the longest one he dropped was a 6-footer for a par on No. 15.

Johansson Starts Comeback With Win On 7th Round TKO

. . . SELLOUT CROWD SEES INGO VICTORY

Goteborg, Sweden (AP)—Ingemar Johansson, the former World heavyweight boxing champion, got his comeback campaign off successfully Friday night by stopping Joe Bygraves of Jamaica in the 7th round.

Referee Andy Smythe of Ireland ended the scheduled 10 rounder at 2:08 of the 7th as blood poured from a gash over the former British Empire champion's left eye.

A sellout crowd of 6,200 in the Maesshlen saw Ingo, trim at 200 pounds, floor the 209-pound Bygraves in the 2nd round and stagger him repeatedly. It was no contest.

Bygraves, also engaged in a comeback, won the 1st round on the Associated Press' scorecard. Johansson took all of the others.

The 29-year-old Swede, making his 1st start since he was knocked out by heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson at Miami Beach, Fla., last March 13, was cheered enthusiastically by the fans of his home town. He weighed 206½ last March.

Six years ago Ingo outpointed Bygraves in a close fight in the same arena.

Friday night Johansson started Bygraves on the way out in the 2nd round with a short right to the jaw. The Jamaican rose at the count of 4 but never fully recovered. Johansson blasted him with both hands for the remainder of the round but couldn't drop him again.

The Viking hurt the invader at least once in every round thereafter. In the 6th, a nasty cut was opened over Bygraves' left eye. Johansson followed with a barrage that had Bygraves wobbling at the bell.

Johansson hopes to regain the European title and then gain a fight with either Sonny Liston, the No. 1 contender from Philadelphia, or Patterson. Johansson's record now is 23-2 including 15 knockouts.

Aging Archie Says No Fair

New York (AP) — The New York State Athletic Commission stripped ancient Archie Moore of his tattered light heavyweight crown Friday and directed Harold Johnson, the National Boxing Association's (NBA) champion from Philadelphia, and Doug Jones, the No. 2 contender from New York to sign for a title fight.

Johnson, 33, and Jones, 24, probably will meet in the Philadelphia arena in May under the promotion of Herman Taylor, it was learned.

When informed of the expected decision by the 3-man commission, the 45-year-old Moore, in San Diego, Calif., threatened to sue the commission and write a letter of protest to Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

"The chairman of the New York Commission has given me repeated warnings, true," said Archie. "But this is like making a man commit financial suicide — to take a fight on a percentage with Harold Johnson or Doug Jones."

N.Y. Follows NBA

The New York commission followed the example of the NBA which withdrew its recognition from Moore about a year ago for failutre to defend his title within a reasonable period. Both the NBA and the New York group require light-heavyweight champions to defend every 6 months.

Johnson, who was knocked out by Moore in a title fight in 1954, won the NBA crown by stopping Jesse Bowdry in Miami last Feb. 9. In two defenses he knocked out Von Clay and outpointed Eddie Cotton.

Moore still was recognized as champion in New York, Massachusetts, California and Europe. He defended the 175-pound title in New York last June 10 and outpointed crude Giulio Rinaldi of Italy.

Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, the chairman of the New York Commission, pointed out that since the end of August, 1959, a period of some 2½ years, Moore has fought only one title bout — against Rinaldi.

Others Notified

The chairman said he had notified the California Athletic Commission, the British Boxing Board of Control and the European Boxing Union of the action against Moore.

Moore won the 175-pound division crown from Joey Maxim in St. Louis Dec. 17, 1952 and set a light-heavyweight record for both the length of his reign and for the number of defenses (9). He successfully defended against Maxim (twice), Johnson, Bobo Olson, Yolande Pompey, Tony Anthony, Yvon Durelle (twice), and Rinaldi.

Sugar Ray Robinson was the last champion to have his title taken away by the New York Commission. The Commission stripped him of the middleweight crown on Dec. 5, 1952 when Sugar Ray was on a dancing tour. Robinson announced his retirement 13 days later. But he unretired and won the middleweight title again and again.

York JC Rolls Over Hastings Reserves

York (AP) — York Junior College rolled over the Hastings College "B" squad 103-69 as 3 home team players poured in more than 20 points Friday night.

Garry Brewster scored 25 and Bryan Jacobs and Ernie Patton each got 22.

Jerry Naaf led Hastings with 17.

York had a 54-39 bulge at the intermission.

NU V. Iowa St. In Indoor Dual

. . . RECORDS UNDER FIRE

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Bolstered by confidence gained via a convincing victory in the opening triangular and additional help from newly-eligible performers, the Nebraska track team meets Iowa State in a Memorial Stadium dual today.

The record book, practically a Cornhusker exclusive, may be in for some re-writing before the afternoon session is concluded.

Field events and the mile run will start at 2 p.m., with the other running events slated to continue at 2:30 p.m. A change in the mile start was made because a Cyclone miler must catch a plane for a return trip before the regularly scheduled time for the event.

Only record held by the Cyclones is the shot put, 53-3 by Phil Delevan, former IS great.

That mark will be under fire from Husker Larry Reiners, who last week set a Nebraska record with a 53-2 toss as the Scarlets clobbered Oklahoma State and Kansas State.

Husker Ray Stevens won the 880 with 1:56.7 last week, beating Big 8 champ Bill Stone, and that time is well under the 1:58 record for the NU-IS dual.

However, Stevens may concentrate on the mile only—his specialty—in view of the arrival of middle distance help for Coach Frank Sevigne's squad.

Ready for duty will be Gil Gebo, a sophomore from New York City; Mike Fleming, former Husker returned from the Marines; and Mauro Altizio, a soph from Lakewood, N.J.

Fleming will run the mile with Stevens—who has never lost a dual mile as a Husker—while Altizio will run the 2-mile, an event in which the Scarlets were blanked last week.

If Ray Knaub and Fred Wilke can repeat last week's sprint and hurdle wins, they'll make the record book, too. Knaub won the 60 in :06.3, while Wilke had a :07.0 in the highs.

Sevigne is also hoping that broad jumper Victor Brooks, who has been bothered by a muscle injury, will be ready. Last week he finished second to Rudy Johnson, the Husker halfback, who went 22-1½ in his first attempt at jumping.

Southeast Swimmers City Meet Favorites

Lincoln Southeast will be seeking a 5th straight title when the Capital City swimmers go to their marks in the annual City Swimming Meet today at the Public Schools Activities Building.

The Knights, coached by John Reda, are the defending state champions in the water sport. They also boast 5 straight Mid-East conference tank titles.

Tom Nickerson, Dave Frank and Steve Coy are among the reasons the Knights are favored.

Nickerson has bettered the existing state records in the 200, and 400-yard free style events.

Frank is also under a state mark. The Knight senior has topped the 200-yard individual medley record and has one of the leading times in the 100-yard backstroke.

Coy, though sometimes overshadowed by his teammates, is also a topnotch merman. The young Knight has the best city time in the 100-yard butterfly and is a threat in the individual medley.

For thrills, the 200-yard freestyle, 100-yard breaststroke, and free style relay are expected to be leaders.

Nickerson is expected to be pressed in the 200 yard freestyle by Lincoln High's Dave Olson. The pair split two earlier races.

Frank and Steve Goetz have also split their breaststroke duals while Lincoln High can match the Southeast relay squad.

Another top fight is expected in the diving where Terry Tice of Lincoln High, Jim Haas of Northeast, and Rick Silverman of Southeast will battle.

Swett (6-1)	G	(5-10) Lee

Boulder, Colo. — Colorado puts its Big 8 title hopes on the line against the Nebraska Cornhuskers tonight, fearful that history may repeat.

While not a contender themselves, the Huskers have managed to disrupt the Big 8 chase in 3 of the past 4 years.

Colorado is atop the Big 8 heap with a perfect 6-0 mark and the Buffs have lost only once at home this season—a double overtime hassle with Texas Tech.

So the Huskers, who are 3-3 in the loop and 7-10 overall, will not be in for a breeze.

The Spoilers

But they have been spoilers in the past. Back in 1958 the Huskers upset both Kansas and Kansas State to set up a title tie. They pulled the same stunt in 1960 and last year whipped Kansas to kayo KU hopes for a tie with K-State.

Colorado last won the Big 8 in 1955 and the Buffs only loss was to Nebraska.

On Jan. 13 in Lincoln the two rivals staged a hot contest, with the Buffs coming back from a 12-point deficit to win 58-56.

CU is led by 6-6 Ken Charlton, currently ranked 42nd in the nation with a 21.4 average, 6-8 Jim Davis and 6-3 Wilky Gilmore.

Husker coach Jerry Bush is changing his starting lineup for the Buffs. He's moving Bill Bowers to cenetr, with Tom Russell switching to forward with Chuck Sladovnik. Rex Swett and Daryl Petsch will man the guard spots.

Eagle Tackle Retires

Atlanta (AP) — Marion Campbell, former University of Georgia star who became an all-league tackle for the Philadelphia Eagles, announced his retirement from professional football. He said he had notified the Eagles of his decision.

Johansson Loses Round Over Taxes

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, Swedish heavyweight fighter, lost another round in federal court Friday in his attempt to escape paying income taxes the government claims he owes.

U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. denied motions by Johansson's attorneys for a new trial, to amend the judgment, to amend the findings of fact and to make additional findings of fact.

The motions were submitted to Judge Johnson in the form of written briefs Jan. 14 and he sent his ruling to federal court in Miami from his office in Montgomery, Ala.

Judge Johnson presided at Johansson's income tax trial here last year. Johansson claims he is a resident of Switzerland and therefore is exempt from U.S. taxes.

Funds from his fights with Floyd Patterson have been tied up since last March when Patterson knocked out the Swede at Miami Beach.

Next step in the litigation probably will be an appeal to a higher court.

Rehabilitation Plan Bids For Recognition

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

An Omaha pilot project aimed at "curing the disease not just treating the symptoms" of families receiving public welfare and social agency assistance is bidding for state-wide recognition and acceptance.

The program, labeled "family social rehabilitation," is a cooperative effort on the part of Douglas County private and public service and welfare agencies to aid each family in trouble through a coordinated program enlisting the aid of all the social agencies involved.

A graphic example of the new program and its family-oriented approach, is described in a pamphlet relating the 15-year history of an Omaha family in trouble and the individual efforts of 10 tax-supported and 7 voluntary agencies to solve single side-effects of the problem, with little over-all success.

Under the new program, the Omaha family would have received not only temporary financial aid from various agencies, but also have been aided through a long-range multi-agency plan aimed at curing the central economic and marital problems in order to prevent future breakup of the family group through alcoholism, juvenile delinquency and illegitimacy.

Linked With JFK

Robert Jornlin, director of the Douglas County Welfare Administration, described the close relationship of the new program to President Kennedy's recent message to Congress on public welfare, including its stress on the preservation of the family unit as the main bulwark against the disruptive forces of society.

The idea behind the program is simple: a coordinated attack by all the community resources upon the many problems of the single family unit. The organization of the plan was not so simple —nor without difficulties in framing an operation where each agency could function within its scope and yet cooperate with all others—and has taken more than 3 years of planning, research and effort to initiate. It is estimated to take 3 years before results can be fully measured.

Here is how the coordinated program works:

—All cases are treated as family units, from grandparents through parents to children.

—Interviews and visits are made to determine the extent of the family's problems, i.e., financial, medical, marital, criminal, alcoholic, etc.

—On the basis of the information a service or treatment plan is outlined, with special treatments requested from the agencies supplying them.

Jornlin, noting that the program could be carried on throughout the state if the Omaha "pilot project" proves successful, said that "there are many things that can be done in a public welfare program that do not necessarily require a large increase in graduate caseworkers or any large appropriation or expenditure of additional monies."

Stressing the potential the program holds for eventual rehabilitation to self-sufficiency of the aided families, Jornlin said that statewide implementation of such a program "would put Nebraska far ahead of most of the other states in the nation."

State Welfare Director Frank Woods also emphasized the similarities between the Omaha pilot project's goals and national welfare program goals outlined by President Kennedy.

Lincolnite To Assist In Annual Assay Of Coins

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy named 17 unpaid volunteers Friday to conduct an annual ritual to make sure that the ancient crime of coin clipping isn't going on at U.S. mints.

The ceremony—which dates back to 1793 when it was a serious matter — will take place next Wednesday at the Philadelphia mint. It will be conducted by the Annual Assay Commission which will convene for the one-day task of testing the weight and fineness of silver coins.

The commissioners who come from such distant areas as Lincoln, Neb., Dover, N.H., Owings Mills, Md., Galesburg, Ill., and Newport, Ark., receive no compensation for their work and pay their own expenses.

Gabarron

(The Lincolnite named is John J. Gabarron of 210 No. 32nd.

(Gabarron, a fire inspector and founder of the Lincoln Coin Club, will leave Monday for Phildelphia with his wife.)

The government picks up the tab for a free lunch and dinner. They each receive a commission signed by the President.

Once Easy

The practice had its origins back in the medieval days of England when coin clipping was an easy practice and silver and gold coins sometimes lost one fourth of their weight within a few months. Penalties ranging from ear-notching to death failed to curb the practice.

A machine invented by a Frenchman, Antoine Boucher, in the 16th Century was more successful. It gave coins milled edges which showed almost instantly if there'd been any paring going on.

In the early colonial days in this country, coins were weighed each time they passed through a bank or money-changer and evaluated on that basis.

No Discrepancies

A spokesman for the mint said that in recent years, no discrepancies have been found by the assay commission in its evaluation of 50 cent pieces, quarters and dimes.

By custom, the commissioners meet for their annual day at 9 a.m. EST at the Philadelphia mint. They usually finish their work between 4 and 5 p.m. with time out for the free lunch.

(Gabarron has been a coin collector for 20 years. He has been with the Lincoln Fire Department for 19 years and holds the rank of captain.

National Chief

(He is national librarian for the American Numismatic Association and a past president of the Nebraska chapter.

(Gabarron said the appointment is the realization of a long-held dream. His own coin collection centers around U.S. coins, and he has just completed a set of all types of U.S. gold coins that took him 9 years to accumulate.)

Billion Dollar Project

Ottawa (AP) — R. A. Stewart of Canada's Topographical Survey Agency says he has learned that Russia plans a mapping project that would cost Canada $1 billion to duplicate. He told the Canadian Institute of surveying the project calls for mapping the entire Soviet Union on a scale of 2½ inches to the mile.

Cultural Council Draws Young People, Industry

By WOODY HOWE
Star Staff Writer

What services can an agency like the Nebraska Cultural Resources Council perform?

Max Kaplan, author, social observer, and director of the Boston University Arts Center, came to Lincoln Friday for the University of Nebraska's "Weekend With Music."

He offered these justifications for the Governor's cultural committee:

—Financial support for the fine arts is being given "some real serious thinking in Washington. Suppose the federal government comes along and says, 'Nebraska, you'll get $100,000 for culture.' To whom does the Governor turn?"

—To hold young people and attract industry, states must offer cultural attractions. "Industries in brain power, like electronics, just won't move into your areas unless you have these assets."

Working With Lincoln

Kaplan's book, "Leisure in America," has sold well. He is currently working with the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts in New York City.

In his book, he pointed to a "cultural explosion" in this country in the last few years.

The Lincoln Youth Symphony, he said, is an example of this sudden spread of culture.

"Twenty-five years ago, you wouldn't have had this kind of thing — you'd have had young orchestras performing only the 'hearts and flowers' kind of thing."

Kaplan's address Saturday will be one of the highlights of the music conference at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

Youths and adults from throughout the state gathered Friday for the two-day event. They saw "Cosi Fan Tutte" at Howell Memorial Theater and a taped music program on television the first day.

Saturday they will hear performances by NU's "Traveling" String Quartet, the Phi Mu Alpha Sinofnia Jazz Group, The Omaha Westside Symphony and the Lincoln Youth Symphony.

Press Clippers Were Outstanding But Got Clipped

Washington (AP) — Among 83 individual and 23 unit awards presented by Secretary of State Dean Rusk at his department's annual honors ceremony Friday was one for the press clipping section.

The citation said the section deserved the meritorious service award because it made "outstanding contibutions to the public service" in providing the offices of the State Department with press clippings.

What the citation did not say was that the award was posthumous. The press clipping section was quietly abolished last month in a department economy drive.

Chile Gives Support To Cuban Ban

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) —Chile Friday rejected Cuba's charge that the United States is planning aggression against Fidel Castro's government and gave token support to the expulsion of the Havana regime by the Organization of American States.

Chile was one of the "soft six" of the OAS which abstained on the U.S. move to oust the Castro government from inter-American affairs. Like the other abstainers — Argentina, Brazil, Bolivia, Ecuador and Mexico — Chile based its objections on grounds that "due process of law" was not complied with in the OAS action.

Chilean Ambassador Daniel Schweitzer agreed with the stand taken by Brazil that Cuba in effect excluded itself from the OAS by announcing its communist leanings. The OAS charter binds all members of the exercise of representative democracy in the Americas.

But Schweitzer pointed out that another OAS obligation is "unlimited respect" for the principle of non-intervention.

Despite this, he said that Cuba had presented no evidence to support its charge of U.S. "aggression."

"We must avoid sliding down the easy path of propaganda or the dangerous road of the cold war which upsets any tranquilizing effort in the Caribbean," Schweitzer said.

". . . Chile has not lost hope that Cuba will come back into the inter-American system with full enjoyment of all its rights and recognition of all its obligations."

Supreme Court Disbars Markel

The Nebraska Supreme Court Friday disbarred Robert D. Markel of Omaha.

The Omaha attorney was recently sentenced to the state reformatory for conviction on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and conspiring with another to obtain money under false pretenses.

Markel had pleaded no contest to both charges in Lancaster County District Court.

Juliet Enroute To Join Frank

Johannesburg, South Africa (AP) — Dancer Juliet Prowse Friday started back to America to rejoin her fiance, Frank Sinatra. She admitted to some career problems and uncertainty over marriage plans.

Before takeoff she told reporters the wedding date is still "in the dark."

She disclosed that Sinatra telephoned her Thursday night at her parents' home near here to say he would meet her on arrival in Los Angeles.

"He wants the wedding as soon as possible. and as soon as possible for him means any day between mid-March and early April, his only free fortnight," she said. Then she added:

"My problem is my film and TV commitments. I have a stack of these and they mean my career to me. This what Frank and I have to sort out." Sinatra opposes continuance of her career after marriage.

Student Car Tax Change Is Sought

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton said Friday the first order of business for the 1963 Legislature should be to clarify and amend a bill passed in 1961 which did not carry out legislative intent concerning taxing of students' cars.

In a bill relating to tax situs of motor vehicles, the Legislature intended to exempt cars owned or used by students from being taxed where they are principally stored or kept, but through an oversight they were not omitted.

As a result students attending the University of Nebraska or other colleges not located in their home counties are being assessed in the county in which the colleges are located.

Burbach questioned again Friday whether county assessors could accurately determine under the present law that a student actually would be located in the "college county" for more than half the assessment year.

Was Lucky Poisoned?

Luciano Swallowed Cyanide, Paper Says

Naples, Italy (AP) — Italian authorities said Friday they are depending on an expert's medical report to tell them whether vice lord Charles (Lucky) Luciano was poisoned. Telesera, a Rome afternoon newspaper, said an autopsy has shown Luciano swallowed potassium cyanide, either wittingly or unwittingly.

Authorities here, commenting cautiously on the report, contributed to the mystery by avoiding flat denial or confirmation of the Telesera story.

Luciano dropped dead Jan. 26 while at Naples' Capodichino Airport meeting a visitor. Italian narcotics detectives, investigating his alleged links with a $150 million international drug ring, had questioned him only a few hours earlier. One detective had trailed him to the airport, where he collapsed shortly after sipping a sotf drink.

Generoso Cuomo, the state prosecutor, said an expert's appraisal of the autopsy "is not yet complete. Therefore, one cannot speak of poisoning (at this time)."

Consistory Call Likely By Easter

Vatican City (AP)—Pope John XXIII may call a consistory for the creation of new cardinals, possibly before Easter, which falls on April 22 this year.

Reports to this effect circulating in Vatican circles could not be confirmed Friday, but usually well-informed sources said belief that such a consistory would be convened is insistent.

These sources said the consistory might be called during the latter half of March and that probably 10 or a dozen new princes of the Roman Catholic Church would be created.

Recent deaths have reduced the number of cardinals to 78, seven less than the maximum of 85 to which Pope John twice brought the college membership—first time on March 28, 1960, and again—after several deaths—on Jan. 16, 1961.

Naming of new cardinals at this time would bulwark the college for the forthcoming Ecumenical Council which opens here on Oct. 11.

Man With Counterfeit Million Can't Post Bond

New York (AP) — The keeper of a cache of $1 million in counterfeit $10 bills went to jail Friday because he couldn't come up with $100,000 in legitmate money for bail. However, authorities sought the big wheels in the ring who have the printing plates that turned out the phony money.

U.S. Atty. Joseph A. Hoey said the fake bills still are being printed "somewhere in the United States."

The east has been flooded with counterfeit $10 bills during the past 6 months. Secret Service agents on the trail of the counterfeiters Thursday night raided an apartment in Brooklyn and seized 100,000 of the fake bills.

Joseph Maggio, 35, a utility company serviceman, was arrested in the apartment. He appeared before U.S. Commissioner Max Schiffman on counterfeit charges and was held for the grand jury when he was unable to post $100,000 bond.

Biggest Ever

Hoey called the seizure the biggest ever on the East Coast and added:

"And it may well stand as the biggest in the country."

So widespread has the counterfeit operation been that many New York business firms has pasted newspaper descriptions of the fake $10 bills on their cash registers as a guide to employes who handle money.

Wholesalers of counterfeit money normally sell it at 20 to 30 cents on the dollar. Individual pushers then take their chances of palming off the bills at face value.

TSHOMBE'S VISIT TO U.S. STILL UNCERTAIN; NO VISA

Elisabethville, Katanga, The Congo (UP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe said Friday he has not yet received a visa for his planned trip to the United States and believes "it is possible that Washington does not wish to received me at this time."

Tshombe told a news conference he requested the visa several weeks ago to attend a rally in New York City's Madison Square Garden in March.

(In Washington, the State Department said Tshombe wrote the U.S. consulate in Elisabethville last month to ask for a visa, was advised to submit a formal application, and subsequently sent in "incomplete documents."

(A formal visa application includes submission on a passport and a statement of the purpose and duration of the proposed trip. There was no indication of what material was lacking in Tshombe's application, but State Department officials said "no further action has been taken" because of this lack.)

Tshombe confirmed that the United Nations had asked permission to send troops into 4 Katanga towns, but said it had delivered no ultimatum.

U.N. sources said, however, that "we will just have to go in" if permision is refused.

MIAMI BUSES ROLLING AGAIN; IDLE 12 DAYS

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Dade County took control of strike-bound bus lines in Miami and Miami Beach Friday and public transportation rolled again for the first time in 12 days.

The buses will run only during daylight hours until more drivers are trained, a county official said.

Thursday night, William Pawley transferred stock in his 4 lines to Dade County and put up $300,000 for a county bus operating fund.

Police reported no violence in connection with the resumption of service.

County moves to acquire the lines sparked the strike. The union argued it would lose collective bargaining rights under government ownership.

Kennedy's Toss White House Ball For The Smiths

Washington (AP) — President and Mrs. Kennedy invited guests — reportedly about 100 —to a private dinner-dance at the White House Friday night.

They had a snowy Washington evening for the black tie affair, something of a farewell for the President's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen P. Smith.

Smith resigned last month as deputy director of the State Department's special operations office to devote more time to the financial affairs of the President's ailing father, Joseph P. Kennedy. The Smiths are expected to make their home in New York City.

SNOWDON BUSY AND HIS ROYAL WIFE IS, TOO

London (UPI) — The Earl of Snowdon, the former Antony Armstrong-Jones, shortly will get his first byline in the Sunday Times, it was announced Friday. His wife, Princess Margaret, simultaneously stepped up her activities with more public engagements booked.

Canadian newspaper publisher Roy Thomson, owner of the Sunday Times, said Snowdon was "busy at a number of features" for the new color supplement and it was believed his byline would be signed to a group of photographs published in the supplement.

Princess Margaret, who has been accused by some newspapers of not earning her $42,000 annual stipend, Friday added 3 more dates to her official diary — a visit to a Sidcup factory April 11, a visit to the headquarters of the Girl Guides May 9 and the taking of the salute at the Royal Tournament in July.

Harlow, England (UPI) — Organizers at the British twist marathon opening here Saturday have insured the dancers for $28,000 against death from exhaustion.

NLRB Demo Defends Shift In Doctrines

Washington (UPI) — A Democratic member of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) Friday defended recent reversals in policy from the doctrines of the previous all-Republican board.

NLRB member Gerald A. Brown said he was tired of hearing that he and Board Chairman Frank W. McCulloch were appointed by President Kennedy to settle a debt owed to organized labor.

"President Kennedy has not appointed messengers for any one vested interest to serve as members of this board," Brown said in a speech prepared for delivery at the Duke University Law School in Durham, N.C. but circulated here in advance of his appearance.

McCulloch and Brown, joined by holdover Democratic board member John A. Fanning, have formed a majority in several important NLRB decisions during the past year.

Republicans Dissent

Two Republicans appointed by former President Eisenhower — Boyd Leedom and Philip Ray Rodgers — usually have dissented in these cases.

"Political affiliation of the individual board members remains an irrelevant factor," Brown said. "Reasonable men may differ as to their interpretation of a statute but this difference should not merely rest upon whether a board member gallantly rode into office on the back of a donkey or an elephant."

He said statistics showed that the NLRB's voting pattern varied constantly from case to case and often cuts across party lines.

Brown's remarks were regarded as a reply to a recent speech by Leedom who said that the board was making too many policy changes since the new appointees had taken office.

About 75 Hogs Die As Ramp Collapses

Omaha (UPI)—Nearly 75 hogs were killed or crippled Friday when a concrete ramp at the Omaha Stock Yards collapsed.

The ramp fell between two buildings in the hog section when the weld on a metal plate at the end of a beam failed, setting off a chain reaction in which other beams tumbled.

Workers Still Digging For 15 Missing German Miners

Saarbruecken, Germany (AP) —Disaster teams dug through tons of muck, smashed machinery, coal and stone Friday night for the bodies of 15 miners believed still in shattered galleries that have yielded 286 dead.

All hope had been abandoned that the missing men survived the fiery explosion which shattered the Luisenthal mine Wednesday.

Sixty-two men were still hospitalized, 12 in critical condition, and the entire Saarbruecken area was in mourning.

Wives and children of the missing miners kept a sorrowful vigil in a building belonging to the mine management.

Clues pointed to the possibility that the disaster may have been sparked by a pocket of methane gas that accumulated in a new cut below the mine's second level.

Cut Collapsed

Unofficial reports said some survivors told investigators that the cut collapsed, forcing gas from the gallery into the main air shaft where it came in contact with fresh air. The story was that this formed a combustible mixture which ignited spontaneously.

Officials hoped rescue work would be completed Saturday and that mining could be resumed sometime next week.

They said none of Luisenthal's 3,000-odd surviving miners had indicated a desire to give up their jobs.

Relief totaling about $800,000 poured in from Germany and abroad and officials said it looked as if the 1,000 or so relatives of the dead miners would at least be free of immediate financial worries.

Girl Convicted; Lured Boyfriends To Murder

Conyers, Ga. (UPI) — A 14-year-old girl accused of luring two former boyfriends to their deaths was convicted on a murder count Friday and sentenced to life imprisonment.

An all-male jury returned the guilty verdict against Dorothy Sue Bradford after about 1½ hours of deliberation.

She specifically was convicted of murder in connection with the death of 16-year-old Wayne Henderson.

Miss Bradford's suitor, 20-year-old Charles R. Byrd, was sentenced to life imprisonment earlier this week for the actual execution of the crimes.

Byrd pleaded guilty to taking Wayne Henderson, his brother Tommy, 14, and James Flanagan, 16, on a gangland-style death ride because they had dated Miss Bradford.

Used Shotgun

He lined them up along a country road and methodically cut them down with a 16-gauge shotgun. Flanagan, although seriously wounded, managed to make his way to a farmhouse.

Byrd, like Miss Bradford, was convicted only of the murder of Wayne Henderson. But another murder indictment and an assault charge were left hanging over his head in the event his life term was ever lifted.

Miss Bradford, who the defense contended was a moron, showed no signs of emotion when the verdict was returned.

Couldn't Watch

In her testimony Friday Miss Bradford said she couldn't bear to watch when Byrd — whom she said was jealous — blasted the victims with his shotgun.

"I couldn't watch him kill anyone," said Dorothy Sue in a voice that was barely audible in the crowded courtroom.

"I was going to stop him, but he killed the first one and I was scared."

Miss Bradford testified that she had been going with Byrd about 6 months at the time of the killings. She said Byrd had questioned her closely whether she had been dating other boys. The girl said when she replied in the negative, Byrd said:

"You're telling a damn lie."

Confessed

Later, she said, she confessed to him that she had dated Flanagan and the Henderson boys. She said Byrd then wanted to know whether they had "ever raped me." She said she told him they had.

Miss Bradford said Byrd then ordered her to call Flanagan on the telephone and arrange a rendezvous at a local drive-in theater. She said Byrd listened in on an extension of the phone while she made the date.

"I done what Charlie told me to do because I didn't want to get killed. Who wouldn't be scared of him . . . somebody that threatened to kill you . . . "Earlier the girl had testified that Byrd had threatened to kill her if she ever broke up with him.

Agreement Reached On Cotton Trade

Geneva (UPI) — The cotton textile committee of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (ATT) approved Friday the draft of a 5-year agreement regulating world cotton textile trading.

Details of the agreement were not immediately available. But it was understood to represent a compromise between the basic propositions made to the two-week conference by the U.S. and Japanese delegations.

Informed sources said the Japanese delegation had made "substantial concessions" in the draft.

The 5-year agreement will replace the current short-term one which expires Oct. 1. American delegates were described by one source as "well pleased" with it, an indication that the U.S. position on protection of domestic markets against flooding from overseas had been generally adhered to.

Death Of Dag And Others Laid To Pilot Errors

Salisbury, South Rhodesia (AP) — A Rhodesian government commission Friday blamed pilot errors for the plane crash at Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, that killed U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and 16 other persons last Sept. 20.

The federal commission ruled out any possibility that the plane was shot down or sabotaged.

But in Ndola, an African witness during the day told a U.N. commission investigating the crash that he saw one plane pursuing another and closing in on it just before Hammarskjold's craft went down. The secretary-general was on a Congo peace mission.

The Rhodesian commission's findings, published after a month of testimony and deliberations, said:

"The aircraft was allowed by the pilot to descend too low so that it struck 3 trees and was brought to the ground."

School Buses Have Flats—All 62 Of 'Em

Arlington, Va. (AP)—All 62 of Arlington County's school buses had flat tires Friday morning and more than 7,000 children were late for classes.

Police said vandals deflated the tires while the vehicles stood in their usual parking lot overnight. Officer Clyde Embrey of the Police Juvenile Bureau said teenagers probably were responsible.

Don't miss it. News of friends on vacation, marriages, engagements, parties, P.T.A. notes and club meeting makes good reading in the family section of "Sunday Journal and Star."

Stock Loss Mild; Ends 8-Day Rally

New York (AP) —The stock market rebound finally ran out of steam Friday. Prices declined for the first time in 9 sessions.

The loss was moderate and it was de-emphasized by a sharp falloff in trading. Volume sank to 3.37 million shares from 3.81 million Thursday. It was the lightest trading since 3.05 million shares were traded Jan. 29.

Normal preweekend caution was heightened by the fact that Monday's observance of Lincoln's birthday will mean a long weekend for many in the financial community, even though the stock exchanges will be open.

At the same time the news background was drab. It included a cut in gasoline prices, a decline in scheduled auto production and a drop in department store sales to a 4-month low. Rail carloadings, however, were higher.

The Dow Jones industrial average was down 2.55 at 714.27.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .80 at 261.10 with industrials down 1.10, rails off .70 and utilities off .10.

Of 1,299 issues traded, declines outnumbered advances by 565 to 495. New highs for 1961-62 totaled 33 and new lows 4.

Generally, the heavy industrials and utilities accounted for the loss on average, rails displaying a mixed pattern and a minor dip on balance. Steels, motors, tobaccos, the major oils, electrical equipments, rubbers and retails showed a lower trend. Some of the chemicals, drugs, building materials and selected issues advanced. A number of the "special situation" oils, inspired by hope of a merger or takeover deals which would profit shareholders, drew considerable buying.

Of the 15 most active stocks, 9 advanced while only 5 declined and one was unchanged, Texaco.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.31 million shares compared with 1.46 million Thursday.

Corporate bonds were mixed in less active trading. U.S. government bonds advanced sharply. Corporate trading on the stock exchange totaled $5.48 million par value compared with Thursday's $5.6 million.

Slow Decline In Grains Halted

Chicago (AP)— The grain futures market ended 4 successive days of slow general decline Friday on the Board of Trade with some contracts of corn and oats only fractions or so from their season lows.

Nearby wheat, rye and soybean deliveries mustered small gains in late trading on scattered support credited to short covering and commercial demand. The advances from the day's lows did not exceed fractions, however.

The pressure from the start was ascribed to continued liquidation and short selling.

Trade volume was small and consisted almost entirely of speculative activity.

At the close, wheat was ⅜ cent a bushel higher to ⅜ lower, March $2.03; corn ¼-½ lower, March $1.06¼; oats ¾-1¼ lower, March 66⅛-66; rye ⅛ higher to ½ lower, March $1.35; soybeans ¼ higher to ⅞ lower, March $2.44⅝-¾.

Senate Group Okays Check Of Stockpiles

Washington (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee authorized a complete investigation into the nation's multibillion dollar stockpile of strategic and critical materials.

It approved a $30,000 fund to start the special investigating urged by President Kennedy in an effort to reduce huge government investments.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who will head the investigation by a 3-man subcommittee, said staff work will start as soon as the Senate gives expected formal approval.

"We have been promised full cooperation by numerous government agencies and other Senate committees," Symington said.

The stockpiles were intended to provide reserve supplies of rare metals and materials needed for war or other emergencies. They contain such diverse items as feathers, castor oil, and opium.

Congressional critics have protested in the past that a shroud of secrecy, invoked initially by the military, has prevented earlier investigations.

Serving with Symington will be Sens. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., and Francis Case, R-S.D. All 3 Senators now are involved in the special senate inquiry into military censorship.

New School Aid Plan Snags

Washington (UPI) — A new proposal was made Friday to allow Congress to toss to the states the hot potato of federal aid for private schools, but it immediately ran into a civil rights snag.

Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey, D-Va., chairman of a House general education subcommittee, enthusiastically announced a "new approach" to the school aid controversy and said it would "cut the heart out of the religious dispute."

It would allocate nearly $500 million over a 3-year period of new school aid to the states and let them decide whether to pass on any of it to parochial or other private schools. But integrationists quickly objected because this also would allow aid to private schools opened in defiance of school integration orders.

This threw a wet blanket on the Bailey plan, casting doubt on whether it would be able to get off the ground. However, Bailey said his committee would begin hearings Feb. 27 on the proposal.

States Would Decide

It would provide federal aid to public schools at a rate of 2% of what each now spends for education. It would be up to the states to decide whether any of the money were used for support of private schools.

Bailey said he believed this approach would be approved by Congress as it would "transfer the fight (over parochial school aid) from Washington to the 50 state capitals."

However, Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., of the parent House Education and Labor Committee, immediately raised the civil rights angle even before seeing a copy of Bailey's proposal.

"Under no condition would I allow such legislation to go unchallenged in committee or on the floor," Powell, a Negro, asserted. He said he would insist on a provision to ban federal aid to segregated schools.

Bailey's plan differs from the aid proposal insisted on by President Kennedy — and apparently doomed to failure — in that it would base federal aid on what a state is now spending for education, whereas Kennedy proposes to base it on public school enrollment.

SEN. THOMAS DODD

Chop Chop Chop Suey

Leicester, England (UPI)— Mrs. Winifred Gamble was fined $28 for smashing 80 plates and 60 eggs in a Chinese restaurant when she became annoyed because her order of chop suey was delayed.

Dodd Aiming Legislation At TV 'Diet Of Crime'

Washington (UPI) —Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., has directed the staff of his Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee to draft legislation aimed at drying up what he called television's "steady diet of crime every night."

One approach being considered would give the Federal Communications Commission rule-making authority to limit the number of programs that an affiliated TV station may accept from its parent network.

Dodd said he and other senators on the subcommittee were shocked to learn of what he called the 3 major networks' "threatening power" over the television industry.

"We found that networks ordered producers and writers to inject elements or prurient sex, violence, sadism, crime and brutality into television shows to attract audiences, including millions of young children," he said.

Dodd disclosed his intention to push for "significant" legislation aimed at curbing the networks in statements placed in the Congressional Record this week. The Senate gave the subcommittee $138,000 to continue its work.

The Connecticut Democrat assigned part of the blame for what he called the surging increase in delinquency easy availability of mail-order weapons, the narcotics traffic and the lack of job opportunities for youth.

The day is rapidly approaching, he said, when one in 4 American boys will have a juvenile court record. His attack on the television industry was perhaps the sharpest made since his subcommittee and the FCC began investigating program practices. He said:

"In the interest of the public, we must insure that the airwaves are used for its benefit and not exclusively for profit at the expense of our children's social health and emotional stability."

Dodd said he was particularly concerned about the increase in delinquency among girls and among the children of middle-class, white-collar families. This trend defies every explanation of why youngsters go astray, he said.

"I have a feeling the mass media has a lot to do with twisting the values of these previously law-abiding children," he said.

Resume Talks
